The Village of Kinsman All Afloat.

Terrible Cloud-Burst at an Early Hour

Sweeps People from Their Breakfast Table.

Six Dead Bodies Already Recovered and Many More Believed to be in the River Bed.

Niles, O., May 26.—A waterspout burst over Kinsman, a small village 12 miles northeast of this city, on the Pymatuning river, yesterday morning, drowning six persons and destroying buildings, stock and crops.

The water fell in torrents from 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock, and the small river overflowed its banks. The farmers did not flee, thinking there was no danger, and all would have been safe had not a dam about two miles above the village broken without warning.

J. B. Robbins' house was on the brink of the river. He and his wife and two children were eating breakfast when the flood came.

It is presumed they started to flee, but too late, and were washed away.

K. Stewart and son were in their barn, which was carried away. Their house withstood the torrent, and Mrs. Stewart witnessed the drowning of her husband and son.

J. D. Campbell and wife were carried down stream and lodged on an abutment of a bridge and were rescued.

The bodies of the six drowned were found in a large pile of driftwood which reached nearly across the river.

Searching parties are overhauling the driftwood, believing that more bodies will be found.

Many horses and cattle were swept away, and the loss is estimated at $20,000.

RAN THROUGH THE TRAIN.

Peculiar Accident Reported in Michigan.

Roscommon, Mich., May 26.—A peculiar railroad accident occurred five miles north of here. A south bound log train was coming down a grade at that point when the front end of a log on the last car next the caboose fell off and the rear end was driven through the way car, smashing it to kindling wood. William Fowles, a brakeman of Bay City, was instantly killed, and Conductor Millington was badly bruised. Two other brakemen were also wounded, but not seriously.

LIVELY DISCUSSIONS

On Several Matters in the Methodist Conference.

Omaha, Neb., May 26.—At the Methodist conference the report of the committee on the ecumenical conference recommended that the bishops appoint 18 delegates to meet the south to negotiate for a consolidation.

Then came the committee on judiciary, and a hum of excitement filled the house, but when it presented report No. 3 touching upon the rights of the bishops to take part in the deliberations of the book committee, owing to their right to fill vacancies, there was a surprise, as the woman's question was expected. The report finds that the bishops can speak and take part only on permission and at the request of the committee. As this is curtailing the functions of the episcopal board, quite a discussion sprang up. Vacancies are filled by the book committee and are either approved or vetoed by the bishop. The latter wanted an opportunity to speak in favor of candidates of their own. This right is denied by the adoption of the report. The report of the committee on world's fair, demanding that the exposition be closed on Sundays, was adopted.

The question of equal representation—laymen and clerical—came up and led to a long wrangle. Finally the conference voted—197 to 108 in favor of equal representation.

Dr. Moore moved to suspend the rules and take up the report of the committee on judiciary relative to the woman question. The motion was lost.

$100,000 FIRE.

Wichita Falls, Tex., May 26.—Fire broke out in this city yesterday, originating in the hardware store of J. C. Siegler, and was evidently the work of an incendiary. The local fire company responded quickly to the fire alarm, but in spite of their hard work $100,000 worth of property went up in smoke. All the property will be rebuilt. The total insurance is about $60,000.

GOV. M'KINLEY AT LAKESIDE.

Lakeside, O., May 26.—Gov. McKinley will speak here on the Fourth of July, having accepted the invitation of the Lakeside managers and the Baptist Assembly to deliver the Fourth of July oration. It is expected that a tremendous crowd will greet him.

ANOTHER DANGEROUS BREAK

The Tensas Basin Again to be Flooded.

One Hundred and Fifty Feet of the Levee Gives Way with Disastrous Results.

Vicksburg, Miss., May 26.—The latest crevasse occurred yesterday afternoon at Craig's Landing, Ark., and threatens the line of the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific railroad, as well as the fertile regions known as the Tensas basin.

It will also overflow considerable portions of the river parishes of East Carroll, Madison, Tensas and probably Concordia.

The parishes affected are among the most populous in the state and an overflow at this season means bankruptcy for the planters and starvation for the laborers and tenants.

Latest reports say it is already 150 feet wide and eight feet deep. This is authentic. It is not cutting fast, but there is no hope of closing it at this stage of the water.

CHAT FROM COLUMBUS.

More Oleomargarine Found on Hotel Tables.

Columbus, May 26.—Dairy and Food Commissioner McNeal on Tuesday collected two fines from hotel keepers in Massillon for placing oleomargarine on their tables without displaying the sign that the law requires. There were collected from J. W. Ewing, of the Waverly house, and the proprietor of the Empire house. In the first case the fine and costs were $55 and $50 in the second, which the department gets.

The state board of agriculture, in executive session, appointed L. N. Bonham director of the weather and crop bureau, Charles Strong assistant, and Professor George R. Twiss and W. R. Lasonby experts. This is under the recent law consolidating these bureaus.

Mrs. Ralph K. Paige has visited her husband at the penitentiary. She came down to consult him upon business matters.

Harvey, the condemned murderer, is growing despondent as the date of his execution draws near. He received letters from his relatives and attorney, but they brought him no cheering news.

ALL ON DRESS PARADE.

Great Day in the History of Nebraska.

Culmination of the Celebration of the Silver Anniversary of Her Statehood.

Lincoln, Neb., May 26.—This is the great day of the celebration in honor of the silver anniversary of the admission of this state to the union. Over 5,000 strangers are here, and despite the annoyances and inconveniences occasioned by the recent floods the city is gaily and in many cases elaborately decorated.

At 10 o'clock there was a big gathering in the grounds of the capitol, presided over by Gov. Boyd. After the Star Spangled Banner had been rendered by the band of the Wesleyan University, Gov. Boyd delivered a brief address, and after an ode, entitled the Silver Anniversary of Nebraska, by Mary Baird Finch, of Coldwater, the oration of the day was delivered by Hon. Mr. Lamberton, of this city.

The great event of the day was the industrial parade which formed on South Eleventh and the adjacent streets at 1 o'clock, with Hon. R. H. Oakley as chief marshal, and a staff of 75 assistants from different parts of the state. In the first section were representatives of the early days of Nebraska, including the Indian, the pioneer and the coming of the first settler, together with illustrations of the business growth of the state as represented by its various industries.

The next division was composed of secret and civic societies, followed by floats representing the industries of the various cities and towns of the state. The city of Lincoln is especially well represented in this portion of the parade.

IN FAR OFF ARGENTINA

Brazilians Celebrate Their Fourth of July.

President Pelligrini's Annual Address is Full of Peace and Hope for the Future.

Buenos Ayres, May 26.—The national independence and anniversary was celebrated yesterday as a general holiday. A grand review of the troops took place.

The following is an abstract of President Pelligrini's message:

He declares that, in spite of adverse times, the government maintained order, avoiding anarchy and affording free elections without bloodshed. He hopes for the regeneration of the country. He says that good organization will be maintained, providing violence by radicals can be avoided.

Relative to finances he reports that, despite new levies, there is still a deficit in the total income for 1891 of $71,500,000. The floating debt is $5,500,000 in gold and $9,750,000 in paper. The consolidated debt federal is $265,962,395 gold and $22,251,689 paper, not including provincial debts.

FRIENDS OF BI-METALISM

Interesting Gathering in Washington.

A Line of Action to be Mapped Out.

If No Relief is Found in the Old Parties Then a New One Must be Formed Say the Leaders.

Washington, D. C., May 26.—Over five hundred delegates, representing a majority of the states of the union, but more largely coming from the silver producing states, assembled in Concordia hall to-day in response to the call of the national silver committee appointed by the first national silver convention held in St. Louis in November, 1889.

The convention was called to order by Congressman A. J. Warner, while Lee Crandall, of this city, officiated as temporary secretary.

The convention has been called by the executive committee in question in the belief that an exigency has arisen which calls for the early consideration and united action of all friends of bi-metalism.

One of its objects is the formation of a national bi-metallic association or league for the better promotion of free bi-metallic coinage in the United States. This action has been impelled by the opinion on the part of the silver men that it is the manifest determination on the part of the gold combination to suppress the silver issue for another decade, and, if possible, by transforming existing debts into gold obligations to fasten forever the single gold standard upon the country.

Amongst those in attendance on the congress are representatives of the Knights of Labor, of the Patrons of Industry, the state Granges and the Farmers' alliance organizations. The Iowa delegates will submit resolutions favoring the free coinage of silver, censuring the nine congressmen of Iowa in voting against the Bland bill, and applauding the affirmative votes of Congressmen White, of the Sixth district, and Butler, of the Fourth.

The delegates from Denver say that there is a solid line of non-partisan silver clubs extending from Mexico on the south to Puget Sound on the north, while the representatives of Nevada declare that 90 per cent. of its voters, irrespective of party, are pledged to free silver. It is given out that a committee will be appointed to urge upon the republican and democratic national conventions the desirability of incorporating in their platforms a free coinage plank.

According to the program, however, if efforts in this direction fail, one of two movements will be opened, either the silver men will rally to the support of the third party ticket to be nominated at Omaha July 4, or a silver convention will be called at which Senator Teller will be nominated for president and Col. L. L. Polk, of the farmers' alliance, for vice-president, on a platform containing but a single plank, and which will provide for the fee and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver.

Those who favor this program are authorized to say that Senator Teller will accept the nomination upon a strictly financial platform, provided that the nominees of the republican or democratic conventions are men unfavorable to free coinage.

HARRISON STRENGTH.

Argument Going to Show He Can't Be Beaten.

New York, May 26.—The New York Mail and Express says: No matter what a few disappointed office dispensers and patronage seekers may say, President Harrison's nomination on the first ballot, if not by acclamation, is absolutely assured. First, because the mass of republican voters and of the people generally are satisfied with him; secondly, because he has the votes. Here they are:

States for Harrison: California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota, Wyoming, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, New Jersey, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, half of Louisiana, four from Michigan, half of Ohio, half of Georgia, half of Virginia, half of Pennsylvania, half of New York.

Against Harrison: Colorado, half of Louisiana, part of Michigan, part of Ohio, half of Georgia, half of Virginia, half of Tennessee, half of New York.

The anti-Harrison class in addition and subtraction should get to work.

HEARING COMMENCED.

Interstate Commerce Commission at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, May 26.—Interstate Commerce Commissioners Morrison and McDill began to-day the hearing of the case of the city of Minneapolis against the Northwestern railroad for discriminating in wheat and flour rates from the Red River valley in favor of Duluth.

There was a large array of counsel and witnesses present. It is not unlikely that the case will be settled before the hearing is over as the roads are making overtures to the Minneapolis millers, who are back of the case for a settlement.

THE BLOW TOO SEVERE

Cornelius Vanderbilt's Mind is Failing.

Grief Over the Loss of His Oldest Son Has Been Too Great a Strain on Him.

New York, May 26.—The Press this morning says; "It is feared that Cornelius Vanderbilt's mind may become unbalanced because of his grief over the death of his eldest son, William H.

"He is watched constantly, and at night some one sits up in his bed room.

"The distracted father is utterly prostrated, and the Press learns through an unquestionable source that his mind has been seriously affected by the shock of his bereavement."

New York, May 26.—Dr. J. W. McLane, the family physician, when asked about the reported mental derangement of Cornelius Vanderbilt, said: "Mr. Vanderbilt is much prostrated at the loss of his son and is a great sufferer, but it is not true that he has become deranged. He slept soundly last night from exhaustion and there were no watchers in his room."

ASSISTANT INSPECTOR OF MINES.

Massillon, O., May 26.—The position of assistant inspector of mines for this district, composed of the counties of Stark, Wayne and Tuscarawas, has been tendered to John P. Jones, of North Lawrence, and has been formally accepted by him. Mr. Jones will begin his official duties on July 1.

Anarchists to Agitate Some More in Paris.

Paris, May 26.—The anarchists have decided to hold a demonstration in front of the residence of M. Beaurepaire, the public prosecutor, and also in front of the ministry of the interior, or the palais de bourbon, the object of the demonstration being to secure the release of M. Pouget, the editor of the anarchist paper Pere Reinards, who was arrested last month and whose paper was suppressed.

The police raided the lodgings of many anarchists yesterday, searching for dynamite. The result of the raids are not known.

BEAUTIFUL FOSTORIA CHURCH.

Fostoria, O., May 26.—The beautiful new Presbyterian church of this city has been opened with a grand organ recital and vocal concert. The organ recital was given by Professor Walter Hall, of Chicago, with Miss Alice Andrus, of Detroit, as soloist. The church interior is the most beautiful and costly in the state, the new pipe organ being valued at $8,000. The church edifice cost $50,000.

HANGED HIMSELF.

Akron, O., May 26.—Jacob Fritz, a farmer living near Rittman, committed suicide by hanging. Fritz has been regarded as "queer" for some time. His wife had instituted proceedings for divorce, and this is supposed to have been the cause of his terrible deed.

A KING AND QUEEN

Have Been Married Fifty Years.

Grand Celebration in Copenhagen Attended by Pretty Ceremonies.

Copenhagen, May 26.—This being the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of King Christian and Queen Louise, of Denmark, the celebration reached its culminating point.

Copenhagen is a mass of decorations, arches, flags and flowers are seen everywhere, and crowds of people are out in holiday attire. The bells are ringing and salutes have been fired from every point, while the capital presents an aspect of militarism that is very unusual in Denmark.

The united Copenhagen singing societies, numbering 1,200 choristers, waited upon their majesties this morning and sang outside the palace. King Christian and Queen Louise came out on the balcony and listened to the singers with evident pleasure. When they had finished King Christian expressed his hearty thanks for the choral salutation, which he said was deeply appreciated by himself and queen.

The king and queen then drove to the chateau at Christianborg where they attended divine services. They were loudly cheered on the way by great multitudes from city and country.

This afternoon the king and queen received more deputations and in the evening the crown prince and crown princess of Denmark will give a grand dinner, after which the royal family and their guests will witness a gala performance at the royal theater. There will also be a splendid display of fireworks this evening by the corporation of Copenhagen and a general illumination of public and private dwellings. Besides the public celebration fetes are being given by members of the Danish nobility, foreign ambassadors and others.

The festivities will be continued over the next two days. To-morrow the king receives more deputations and Prince Waldeman will give a dinner party at night. On Saturday the festival of the university will take place. The king received to-day an illuminated address, enclosed in a golden casket, from the Danish community in London.

FOR CLEVELAND.

The Washington Democrats Take a Firm Stand.

Vancouver, Wash., May 26.—The democratic state convention met here for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national convention.

Temporary organization was effected by the selection of L. H. Platter, of Spokane. Secretary Lane, in a brief speech, said there was no necessity to pledge the delegates as they would all go knowing that Washington was for Cleveland and they would stand by him until there was no longer a chance of his nomination.

The convention strongly indorsed Cleveland but refrained from instructing the delegation. Following were chosen as delegates: John Collins, C. W. Griggs, F. P. Hogan, H. J. Snively, M. J. Maloney, H. S. Blandford, W. H. Dumphy and J. H. Mundy.

THE CLOSING HOURS

Of the Methodist Conference in Omaha.

Rushing Business Through to Get Ready for an Adjournment.

Omaha, May 26.—The last session of the Methodist Episcopal quadriennial conference this morning was presided over by Bishop Fitzgerald.

The sitting committee had arranged an order of business burying the unimportant committees' reports. An attempt was made to take off the table the report of the committee on temporal economy, but it failed. The conference then ordered the treasurer of the missionary fund to pay into the Episcopal fund the amount of the missionary bishop's salary.

A resolution allowing the bishops to appoint preachers for five years not taking into consideration their service prior to '88. When the committee on revisals reported exceptions were taken to the report as offered by the chairman, the claim being made that the paragraphs relating to the use of tobacco had been omitted without knowledge of the committee. The omissions were added and report adopted.

The committee on state of the church in relation to organic union of all the Methodist churches recommended that the bishops report a commission of three bishops, three laymen and three ministers to confer with like commissions from other churches which the bishops are asked to request. Adopted.

The Rocky Mountain Advocate was made the official organ of the church, provided, however, that the book concern and church shall not be held liable for any loss. Any conference may adopt the paper for its official organ.

The Nebraska Advocate asked a similar franchise and the committee so recommended.

Elder Shank pledged himself to turn over all the profits above actual expense of editors, etc., to the worn-out preachers of Nebraska.

Dr. Buckley raised the point that it would be inequable as Nebraska would get a double share of the contriubtions to the superannuated fund. He called attention to the fact that every such independent paper draws directly from the official papers, their patronage and profits. He argued that in doing this that the editors of the regular papers are absolved from the responsibility for the circulation of their paper.

BLAINE'S EYES GOOD.

New York, May 26.—Dr. Noyes, who examined Secretary Blaine's eyes yesterday, was seen at his home by a reporter last night to whom he said there was nothing serious the matter with the secretary's eyes. Dr. Noyes said the eyes were merely a little weak from overwork.

Paris, May 26.—At Chalons yesterday four soldiers sat down on a chest of gunpowder and began to smoke cigarettes. Almost instantly an explosion occurred and all four were fatally injured.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The Churches Not Enthusiastic Over the Convention.

Salem, O., May 26.—(Special)—The historic little anti-slavery town of Salem was the scene of the first Woman Suffrage convention held in Ohio nearly a half century ago, but the seed then sown seems not to have borne fruit, for none of the churches could be induced to open their doors to the convention of '92, and we are obliged to hold our meetings in the opera house.

The eighth annual convention of the O. W. S. A. opened with an executive session of delegates, President C. M. Everhard, of Massillon, in the chair.

The following committees were appointed:

Finance—Mrs. Lucy Hannem, Mrs. Lucy Solberg, Mrs. Hard.

Resolutions—Mrs. S. S. Bissell, Mrs. Lucy Solberg, Mrs. K. B. Locke, Mrs. Martha Dana, Mrs. C. Q. Murphy, Miss E. L. Folger.

Credentianls—Dr. Sarah Brooke, Mrs. A. H. Peters, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Knox, Miss Rose Gifford.

BLAINE THE MAN.

Pittsburg, May 26.—Senator Quay was in the city this morning for a few minutes while en route to his home in Beaver. In an interview he said that he did not think there would be any trouble in nominating Blaine at Minneapolis. "It will not be by stampeding the convention," said he, "but by force of the general sentiment."

TOOK A NEW YORKER.

Cleveland, O., May 26.—At the meeting of the school council last night, Andrew S. Draper, late superintendent of instruction of the state of New York, was elected to the office of superintendent of instruction of the public schools of Cleveland, at a salary of $5,000 per annum. He succeeds W. M. Day.

SUGAR CULTURISTS.

Can Money be Made on the Beet Business.

Consul General Mason, of Frankfort, Writes to the Department on the Subject.

Washington, May 26.—Consul General Mason, of Frankfort, has sent a report to the state department discussing the question whether or not, under the conditions that now exist in the United States, the production of beet sugar on a large scale can be made permanently profitable in face of the competition which is so rapidly developing in other countries.

He says: "At present there are two important operations involved in the cultivation of sugar beets which require to be performed by hand labor. These are the thinning out of the young plants in the spring, or early summer, and the topping of the mature vegetable in the autumn.

"The labor requisite for this purpose is far more costly in the United States than in France, Germany, or Austria.

"But, on the other hand, land is far cheaper and more fertile in our country than it is abroad, and American laws secure to the farmer a bounty of from 1 3-4 to 2 cents per pound for all sugar which he may produce, whether it be exported or sold for domestic consumption.

"Will the advantages thus secured to our sugar culturists enable them to permanently maintain the competition against sugars imported free of duty and which have been grown on lands worn by centuries of cultivation and requiring constant fertilization by labor which costs only from 25 to 50 cents per day? This question has been already discussed by some of the more thoughtful economists of France and Germany, and opinion is divided as to whether, in the issue which must soon be practically tested, it will be the American or the European grower who must go to the wall."

Mr. Mason shows that the area devoted to beet culture in three years has increased 43 per cent. in France, 27 per cent. in Germany and 174 per cent. in Austria. But for the poor crop in 1891 and the removal of the sugar duty by the United States, a panic would have been inevitable, he says. It is estimated that three-fifths of the present European product is surplus for exportation and the government bounties on export will be abolished or reduced. As to the American situation Mr. Mason says:

"If upon trial, beet culture does not prove remunerative it can be promptly abandoned and the land devoted to other crops. The principal risk would seem to be on the part of firms and individuals who are erecting extensive plants for the manufacture of sugar from beets in the United States, for which they guarantee to pay a fixed price during prescribed period and it is to these that the logic of the present situation is especially important."

SHAMEFUL WRITING.

A Negro Editor Flee Before the Wrath to Come.

Memphis, Tenn., May 26.—A colored newspaper, the Free Speech, by an editorial paragraph stirred this community up almost to a lynching point. Yesterday in referring to the frequent lynching of negroes it said: "Nobody in this section of the country believes the old thread-bare lie that negro men rape white women. If southern white men are not careful they will over-reach themselves, and publi sentiment will have a reaction and a conclusion will be reached which will be very damaging to the moral reputation of their women."

The article caused great indignation and a meeting of prominent citizens was held. A word would have secured a lynching, but finally a committee was appointed to wait on the cloored editor, a man named Fleming, and warned him not to repeat such language.

Editor Fleming heard of the meeting and not having faith in its pacific intentions left town before the committee reached him.

Y., May 26.—The New York State Cleveland League of Colored Democrats, which was organized in '882 when Grover Cleveland ran for governor, and which has existed ever since under the name, although not especially connected with the candidacy, met in this city in convention shortly after 1 o'clock to-day.

Delegates arrived during the morning and there are delegates here from New York, Kings, Queens, Westchester, Orange, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess, Rensselaer, Albany, Montgomery, Schoharie, Onondaga, Ontario and Chemung counties.

The New York, Kings and Queens county delegations arrived on the 12:28 train and were met at the depot by the Albany delegation headed by a band and escorted to the convention hall.

Mayor Manning made a brief address of welcome and then the first democratic convention of colored men ever held in a northern state was opened.

AMATEUR JOURNALISTS.

They Are Holding a Meeting in Springfield.

Springfield, Mass., May 26.—Thirty amateur journalists gathered at the Glendover hotel last evening to enjoy a banquet and held the annual meeting of the New England Inter-Collegiate Press association.

At the business meeting which was held at 10 o'clock, officers were elected and committees appointed to consider the advisability of arranging an inter-collegiate oratorical contest and to provide for an exhibit of college papers at the world's fair.

Miss Davidson, of the Wellesley Prelude; W. F. Collins, of the Trinity Tablet; Miss A. L. Snell, of the Mount Holyoke; W. C. Belknap, of the Dartmouth Lit; Arthur Oliver, of the Williams Lit, and A. E. Thomas, of the Brunonian, responded to toasts.

PLEASED WITH THE OUTLOOK

The Syracuse Convention to be a Hummer.

The Large Vote Cast at the Primaries Shows the Interest in the Affair.

New York, May 26.—The New York members of the state provisional committee are much pleased with the result of yesterday's primaries in this city, and the reports from the country conventions throughout the state exceed their expectations.

These reports from the county leaders show a larger vote at the primaries than any of the calculations made a month ago provided for.

E. Ellery Anderson said to-day that he considered the vote in the city a representative one. To get out more than 10,000 men to vote at a primary in May he regarded as a manifestation of a deep current of feeling in favor of the end which led to the calling of the primaries.

Mr. Anderson denied absolutely the dispatch from Washington published in some of the morning papers to the effect that the Syracuse convention would not send a delegation to the Chicago convention, but would merely send a protest.

BRAZILIAN CRUISERS.

Two Splendid Ships Launched in England.

London, May 26.—Two war vessels for the Brazilian navy were launched to-day at Elswick shipyard on the Tyne. They are both cruisers, one being the Republica, of 1,300 tons, and the other the Oirandentes, of 800 tons.

Both vessels are fitted with machine guns and torpedo tubes and the Republica can steam 17 knots an hour and has a protected steel ram.

They are fitted with every recognized modern device for naval defense and destruction, and will form valuable additions to the Brazilian navy.

Vice-Admiral J. F. De Abreu was at the shipyard during the launching and will command the vessels on their voyage to Brazil.

THE JURY SECURED,

And the Willey Case Now Fully On.

A Long List of Witnesses With Evidence of Some Unexpected Testimony.

Defiance, O., May 26.—(Special)—After drawing three special venires the jury in the trial of H. V. Willey, for the murder of G. W. Krotz, was filled today at 10:30 this morning.

The state is represented by Prosecutor J. B. Woods and W. H. Hubbard, the defense by Harris & Cameron and Hon. J. W. Winn.

The statement of the case is being made to-day and evidence will probably be introduced late in the afternoon.

The court room is thronged with spectators and the utmost interest prevails.

Many witnesses are to be examined and much unexpected evidence will develop. The trial will continue for some time and will be closely fought.

INVESTIGATING A MURDER.

Calcutta, May 26.—The murder of Jung Beharibel, a leading resident of this city and the favorite councillor of the late Maharajah Ulwar, is being investigated by the authorities. Beharibel was walking to the railway station when he was attacked and stabbed to death. The motive of the crime is supposed to have been revenge.

THEY SHOT HIM DEAD.

Levee Guards Kill a Malicious Person.

He Was Attempting to Blow the Levee With Dynamite and Was Caught at It.

Memphis, Tenn., May 26.—A private dispatch from Gunnison, Miss., says: "The levee guards shot and killed a man last night who was attempting to blow up the levee with dynamite at Dennis Landing. We have his dynamite, fuse and pistol here. He was a white man; name not reported."

HO, YE THAT SUFFER

That Which has Been Done for Others Can Be Done for You.

There are Many Who are Hopeless from Long and Fruitless Effort to Secure Health, and These Should Read this Counsel and Heed the Words of the Witnesses.

"I have read the statements of many of those whom you have cured. Their cases are parallel to mine. It seems to me that what has been done for others may be done for me."

This is the introduction of a letter received by Drs. Copeland and Bell last week, and its simple, forceful reasoning is such that it is given to the public as a thought that must appeal to everyone who is ill. It is not for those who are well that these articles are written. It is for those who suffer. There are many people who have been ill for years; they have sought medical aid, have paid large doctor bills and expensive drug bills; they have been patient and faithful in following instructions, and yet they have in no way improved in health or removed the disease which is the cause of their pain, suffering and impairment of functions.

To these Drs. Copeland and Bell desire to say: "What has been done for others may be done for you." The statements of patients who have been cured are printed each week, to show what can be done. From these it will be seen that Drs. Copeland and Bell have succeeded in almost every instance, in effecting a cure where other physicians have utterly failed. "I have despaired of ever recovering," is a common expression of these witnesses. I went to one doctor after another and spent hundreds of dollars in medicines, but obtained no relief."

If the reader finds that the statement of one or more patients presents identical symptoms with his or her own there is only one sensible thing to do, and that is to go to the physicians who effected the cure.

Do not let any compunctions as to "advertising doctors" or "irregular practitioners" deter you. Drs. Copeland and Bell are regularly graduated, highly trained physicians, and they have an immense practice. They are not quacks, but scientifically skilled medical men, abundantly able to handle any case that comes under their care, and can present as clean a bill of health as the best doctor in the city.

Their system has been organized so as to place their service within the reach of even the poorest. When their splendid work has been considered, recollect that they treat patients for a nominal fee per month, furnish medicines free, and devote with zealous enthusiam their attention to each individual, determined to make a cure where cure is possible, and to relieve suffering anyway.

"What has been doen for others may be done for you."

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

It is Submitted by Mr. Clouse, of Cygnet in Behalf of Drs. Copeland and Bell.

No statement from any of the patients of Drs. Copeland and Bell is more remarkable or more forcible than the following, contributed by Mr. F. D. Clouse, of Cygnet, Ohio:

Those who suffer from consumption, or what is generally called consumption, should read this statement, as it indicates what can be done for them by thoroughly skilled specialists who have only the good of the patient at heart.

"I have been affected," said Mr. Clouse, "for six or seven years. I was under the treatment of physicians almost constantly, but the doctors were all at sea in regard to my ailment. Some said I had consumption; some said it was bleeding from the stomach. Dr. T. A. Slocum, of New York City, said that I had consumption and treated me for it. I coughed and raised a great deal. I had pains through the chest and back; I had chills and night sweats. The night sweats were so profuse that frequently I had to have the bed-clothing changed. I lost flesh and strength and began to think that I was going to die, especially since my mother and sister had died with consumption.

"The pains through my chest and back were very severe, and when I coughed it nearly tore me to pieces. My throat was raw and sore because of the continual dropping from the head into my throat, and the coughing. I had dull pains in the back of my head and over my eyes. My appetite was irregular and if I ate any quantity I had great distress afterwards. My sleep was fitful and unrefreshing. Altogether I was completely run down, and was so weak I was obliged to give up my work.

What Has Been Done For Him.

"Since placing myself under the treatment of Drs. Copeland and Bell my cough has disappeared to such an extent that I scarcely notice it. My sore throat has gone, and the dropping from the head which used to irritate it has ceased altogether. I have no headaches, no pains through my chest or back. My appetite is improved and I relish my food, and have no feeling of distress. I sleep well and awake feeling thoroughly refreshed. During the time of treatment I have gained considerable flesh and strength, and feel better than I have at any time in the past ten years. My recovery has been remarkable. I owe all this to Drs. Copeland and Bell, and desire publicly to express my gratitude to them, and to testify to their splendid ability as physicians."

THE GREAT POOL MATCH

Something About the Coming Contest.

Rain Stops a Game at the Ball Park.

Reports of Base Ball from all the Wide-Awake Cities—Notes of General Interest.

The great national pool contest between Alfredo de Oro, the present champion, and Charles Manning, of New York, and Alfred G. Powers and John Werner, both of Chicago, opens to-night at Tammany hall, New York, and a remarkable degree of interest is being manifested in the outcome. All four of the contestants are on the ground, and had a social meeting this morning. The contest will be 600 points continuous pool, 200 balls each night, $500 a side, and the winner to take the net gate receipts. The match will continue on Friday and Saturday nights.

Werner defeated both Clearwater and Powers in the recent tournament at Syracuse, and was defeated by de Oro after an exciting contest by only 10 points. Manning has won the championship emblem three times, and this is the third time that de Oro, who now holds it, has succeeded in gaining the title of champion.

He secured it the last time by a contest in Chicago with Powers a year ago.

Powers captured the trophy once, owing to the fact that Manning, who was the holder at the time, was one day late in posting his forfeit money. The match is one of Chicago's experts, backed with Chicago money, against New York and Cuba, with New York money.

The four men entered are undoubtedly the greatest pool players in the world, and the contest promises to be a hot one from start to finish. All four men have been practicing hard during the past few days, and have scored excellent runs of 30 and 40 balls.

With big fat Billy O'Brien at bat in the last half of the fifth inning, with two men out and the score tied, the boss of the rain machine turned on the water cock and stopped the game as effectually as did the police on last Sunday. Sullivan was in the box for the visitors and pitched a nice game of ball, Ely's home run and Nicholson's single being the only hits made. While Dewald was hit hard at times it was the errors that allowed the runs to score.

Indianapolis scored her two runs in the first. Genius got a base on balls and went to second on a passed ball. O'Brien hit to Ely, who made a wonderful stop of the ball and threw Billy out at first, holding Genius on second. Lawrence got first on balls and Genius was thrown out trying to steal third, Lawrence going to second on the play. Then Old Hickory Carpenter, who played third base for the Pottawattamies when Mad Anthony Wayne and Simon Girty was the battery, hit the ball out to the fence for two bases and scored Lawrence. "Hick" tried to stretch his hit into a three-bagger and Newell dropped the thrown ball, giving him safe. Letcher scored him on a hit and went out trying to steal second.

Toledo got a run in the second. Gettinger got four balls, and to second on a passed ball. A wild throw by Genius of Darling's ball gave Darling second and Gettinger third. Newell hit to third and went out at first; no sacrifice. Armour was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases with one man out. Hurley hit to short and Gettinger was forced out at the plate. Dewald went out on a fly to right.

In the third, Mr. Can't-stop-'em-I-guess-yes Ely hit the ball over into the next township for a louf heim. (If you want to know what a "louf heim" is you will have to ask Herman Baumbach). Toledo had several chances to get runs but the requisite hits did not come. The score follows:

New York, May 26.—The proposed match between Ted Pritchard and Bob Fitzsimmons is further off than ever. The following communication was received by a sporting paper yesterday:

London, May 25, 1892.—I journeyed to Pritchard's training quarters to-day specially to submit the articles of agreement to him for his proposed match with Bob Fitzsimmons in the Olympic club, New Orleans, also to inform him that the Olympic club would defray his expenses and pay any forfeit necessary if he would break off his match with O'Brien. Pritchard stated Sept. 5, the date named for him to fight Fitzsimmons, would not give him time enough to train. Pritchard guarantees he will fight Fitzsimmons in the Olympic club any day in November, providing a purse of $15,000 is offered. Jim Hall has challenged Pritchard to box six rounds at 11 stone 8 pounds. The latter has refused to accept. Agrees to fight Hall at 11 stone for $5,000 a side, eight weeks from signing articles. Slavin is big favorite, 2 to 1 being offered on him. He is reported to be in first-class condition.

By the dropping of St. Paul and the taking in of Fort Wayne the eastern division was made to consist of Toledo, Columbus, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis, and Milwaukee was placed in the western division with Minneapolis, Kansas City and Omaha. In order to even up the playing dates Fort Wayne had to take Milwaukees dates, and Milwaukee will have to take St. Paul's dates. This will bring the Fort Waynes, which are the St. Pauls, here for Sunday and Decoration Day.

Gastright fears he will be released.

The Minneapolis club may be transferred to Denver.

Rhines and Harrington have repented and asked to be reinstated.

Armour made a beautiful catch in right yesterday which stopped Indianapolis from another score.

Armour's throw in to the plate from right in the third inning yesterday shows him to be a ball player right. Gus Schmelz would like to have Armour in his Columbus team, but Billy will play with Toledo and play good ball, too.

PAPER ON BOY'S RIGHTS

Read Before the Last Meeting of the

Colloquial Club by Miss Cora Law—The Honest, Intelligent American Boy Should Not be Ignored.

There was given recently in this city a most interesting and convincing lecture on the subject of woman's rights. There are also two suffrage clubs composed of our most intellectual and energetic ladies, who exert a beneficial influence on the board of education and the police commissioners, and show conclusively that equal rights should be a fact and not a theory in this great republic.

In every magazine and paper are articles on the higher education of women and eulogies on the girl of the period, and especially the American girl, until even Max O'Rell, whom we supposed was unquestionably ours, has gone over to the opposition, if there is an opposition, and confesses "That to tell the honest truth, he is heartily sick of her." The papers are full of articles praising and abetting the good works of the Humane society. Even the animals have strong friends and champions.

Still there is a large and important class who have no especial society or organ, by which to advocate their claims, who are not noticed by foreign travelers in this country, except perhaps, as Young America, which has become almost a synonym for impudence, roughness and slang. They are not eulogized in the newspapers; in fact, they seldom find their way into print except for some misconduct. "A Band of Youthful Robbers," Yellow-Backed Novel Fiends," etc., are no longer startling disguises of the bright, honest and intelligent American boy.

A boy does not need all of his time for play. He ought to have some regular home duties, but a good deal of it could be combined, like the kindergarten, work and play.

What is harder work than hunting, fishing, bird's nesting, yachting, etc.? And yet it is a very lazy boy who stays at home on that account.

Have the boys learn to swim, and then let them go fishing, yachting, swimming, etc., and learn to be responsible for themselves and others who are with them. It develops manliness, courage, and many other essentials of a noble character. There is no more danger to a boy in hunting, who has been taught to handle a gun, than there is in many other amusements, where the effect is not so sudden, but just as fatal.

There are two other duties that parents owe to their boys as well as their girls. If a boy has a taste for drawing, painting or music, why should he not have instruction as well as a girl? If your daughter has a year or two away at school, why not your son?

A boy often gets a dislike to study from his public school experiences. He spends most of his days in school, and five days out of the week. That certainly ought to be the time when he is happiest.

But his memories are of the long essays and orations that he was compelled to coin out of that brain, which had no time to think or be original, as it required all its force to get through with the routine work. But even after a judicious use of the encyclopedia or biography, a few ideas had been put upon paper strung together with a few choice words of his own that did not sound a bit like him, for his own particular words were mostly slang.

Then only part of the misery was over, for he must not only learn this rhetorical creation, but recite it with many stiff gestures of his ungainly arms before rows of critical, giggling girls, to say nothing of the other boys and the teachers. Surely a boy's school days are not his happiest ones.

And then another horror was the singing lesson, in which all must take part unless they have some very valid excuse, which is accorded to a very few. A boy of 15 or 16 never knows when he is going to join in with the very highest soprano or come in clear below the lowest base, with a horribly discordant sound, which gains him a sharp look from the teacher, who thinks he is trying to be funny. Funny! He may be laughing hysterically with all the occupants of adjoining seats, but it is not from mirth.

Now that we have the manual training, school life is not so dull; but it might be greatly improved still.

There are quite a number of people in this wide universe who regard boys, and especially individual boys as a part of the human race; but there are many more who look upon boys collectively about as they do upon some mischievous animals. They speak of the impossibility of doing certain things because, "O! no, the boys would carry it all off," or "O! no, that would be a perfect target for the boys' sling-shots," or "O, that would bring so many boys into the yard."

When there are so many rules governing the conduct of boys is it any wonder that they sometimes get hard pushed for fun and get into mischief once in awhile?

No snow balls, no sling-shots, no marbles on the school grounds or obstructing the sidewalks; no playing of any kind on the school grounds, because it would spoil the grass and the appearance of the city; no loud games of base ball, chalk the rabbit, hide and seek, (if the last two mentioned games are not too antiquated) unless in some very sequestered place far from home.

I have not begun to tell you all the ways in which I think boys are deprived of their rights but will close with one more little experience. Since commencing this paper, I chaperoned a couple of young people to a party. One of the most striking figures in the room was a boy who, for some private theatricals in which he took a man's part, was compelled to borrow a pair of his father's trousers as his own only came to the knee. We laughed together over his absurd appearance.

He has always been a favorite of mine and I thought of him a good deal as I wrote these lines. They were dancing the minuette when I noticed him. His long, well-fitting trousers were carefully creased. His cuffs were slightly pointed and fastened with link buttons.

In place of the one vest, that is usually considered sufficient, he wore two—a white one that peeped an inch or two above the cloth vest. What was its purpose I do not know. It is needless to say that his necktie was red and his collar high. His manners were perfect and his attitudes graceful as he leaned and bowed in that pretty dance.

His mature young face and tall, manly figure, corresponded with his elegance. On good authority his age was just fourteen.

If this youth is typical of the boy of today then "I have reckoned without mine host."

SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

Newspaper Men Now Bound for Sacramento.

San Francisco, Cal., May 26.—This is the closing day of the national editorial convention, and to-night the delegates will bid farewell to the city of the Golden Gate and leave for Sacramento via Woodland, Chico and Tehema, at which places stops of a couple of hours each will be made.

Some interesting subjects were discussed at this morning's session of the convention. How errors can be detected and mistakes prevented in newspaper bookkeeping and business policy was the subject of an address by Hon. V. S. McClathy, of this city.

Glances at American and European Journalism were made by Emil Blum, American correspondent of the Neue Freie Press of Vienna, and Isadore Munk, American correspondent of numerous Bohemian publications.

John Nagle, of Manitowoc, Wisconsin, told what might be accomplished by the home weekly as an educator, while R. W. Banks, of Columbus, Mississippi, in an interesting paper took the ground that it was the newspapers rather than the stump orators that made presidents of the United States. After the noon recess nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year will be in order.

We are content to grow slow and substantial.

WILSON AND TUCKER

Are for Harrison—So the Former Gives Out.

Last evening's Cincinnati Times-Star has an interview with Delegate John B. Wilson, of Bowling Green, who has been in attendance at the Grand Lodge K. P. sessions. It is the first public declaration on the part of Mr. Wilson, and as he speaks for Mr. Tucker as well, the "talk" will probably prove interesting to the faithful in Toledo and hereabouts:

Among the Knights of Pythias who are here attending the state convention of the order is Hon. J. B. Wilson, the auditor of Wood county. In addition to being county auditor Mr. Wilson is one of Ohio's delegates to the republican national convention and when he got to discussing the relative merits of the Harrison and Blaine booms he became the center of interest of a small group of politicians who clustered around him, for whatever Mr. Wilson's views are they will be of consequence and a matter of count at the national gathering, which is but a few days off.

"I am for Harrison," said Mr. Wilson, seriously and thoughtfully. "So is Mr. W. H. Tucker, of Toledo, the other delegate from our congressional district. Our people are Harrison people. We all want Harrison renominated.

"The Blaine boom is being well worked up by the enemies of President Harrison, but I cannot for the life of me see how it will amount to anything pratically. I used to be one of the greatest Blaine men you or anybody else ever saw, but I am not so now. I think that it is time the republicans realized that Blaine is too old a man to be burdened with the worry of a national campaign. He has said he is not a candidate, and I have enough respect for him to take him at his word.

"Now, why should not President Harrison be renominated? Has he not given the country a splendid administration? I insist that he has been one of the greatest presidents the country has seen. Not a flaw can be picked in his record. It defies cavilling. The only trouble is that he has not allowed certain politicians to make a puppet out of him, and he is now being attacked by those same men.. I am for Harrison all the time and so are my people."

BAUMGARDNER BUILDING.

The Site Corner Summit and Oak Selected.

A Six-Story Building 125x60 Feet to be Erected—The Papers are Being Drawn Up To-day.

The Baumgardner building, referred to in the Bee a few days ago, is an assured fact.

As intimated at that time the site on the corner of Summit and Oak streets, where the old mill stands, has been selected.

The building will be six stories, five of which will be occupied by the Messrs. Baumgardner. It will be 125x60 feet, and will cost about $50,000.

Mr. C. T. Lewis, who represents the Waggoner estate, said to a Bee to-day that the location as given had been selected:

"The building will go up," he said, "although a few details have got to be settled. The papers are being prepared, and I think will be signed this afternoon."

The tearing down of the old mill—a long standing eye-sore—and the erection of a handsome building will be an immense improvement to that section of Summit street.

REGULAR SCHEDULE TO ST. LOUIS.

The Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad, "Clover Leaf Route," resumes regular schedule to-day. Two trains daily to St. Louis, Mo.—6:25 a. m., and 5:25 p. m.

C. C. JENKINS, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

JOHN T. NEWTON

Will Erect a Splendid Six-Story Business Block

For the Blade Printing and Paper Company on the Lot Adjoining the New Bee Building.

St. Clair street, between Adams and Madison streets, is fast becoming a business center, and many improvements are contemplated.

Among the latest is the decision of Mr. John T. Newton to erect a fine business block, six stories high, for the Blade Printing & Paper company on the 60 feet lot adjoining the new Bee building.

Architect Bacon has finished the plans and the building promises to be one of the finest of its kind erected in the city.

The present quarters of the company have been found much too small for the large increase of business.

The building will be of brick, and will be an ornament to St. Clair street. It will be 115x60 feet, reaching from the Bee to the old rink place. The blacksmith shop which now occupies a section of the lot will be removed soon.

U. C. T. WELCOME.

The Advance Guards are Arriving.

The Cincinnati Delegation at the Boody—The Program for To-morrow—Mayor Emmick to Welcome the Visitors.

The Dayton delegation will hold open house at the Jefferson, and things will be lively at Hotel Hamilton, the Burnet, and other houses as well.

The program for to-morrow will be as follows:

At 8 a. m., members of Toledo council meet at Pythian castle.

At 9 a. m., reception of visiting delegates and members of the order.

At 8:30 p. m., there will be a social session at Pythian castle with music, dancing, and refreshments for members of the U. C. T. and their ladies only. The following gentlemen will act as a floor committee: A. R. Hoff, C. M. Dederich, J. P. Weed, G. P. Paine, J. H. Hildebrand, A. Friend, H. E. Schloss, and N. Kaufman.

Everthing is in readiness and a big time is expected. There is no jollier body of men on earth than commercial travelers, and Toledo hangs its latch string out.

At 10:30 a. m., the meeting will be called to order at the castle and Mayor Emmick will deliver an address of welcome.

At 1:30 p. m., a meeting of the Grand Council, secret session. All members of the order in good standing will be admitted. Address of welcome by Senior Counselor J. H. Hildebrand, of Toledo Council.

DISCUSSING THE FAIRS

The House Refuses to Compel the Directors

To Shut Up the Big Show on Sundays.

The Government Exhibit, However, Must Be Closed on the Seventh Day of the Week.

Washington, May 26.—Mr. Cheatham (colored republican, North Carolina,) asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a bill to collect statistics regarding the progress made by the colored race from 1863 to 1893 to form a portion of the government exhibit at Chicago. This was objected to by Mr. Kilgore (dem., Texas) and the matter went over.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil bill (Mr. Lester in the chair) the pending amendments being those relating to the closing of the exposition on Sunday.

Mr. Butler, (dem. Iowa,) submitted an amendment prohibiting any nude or partially nude painting or statue. Ruled out on a point of order.

Mr. Scott, (dem. Ills.) offered an amendment prohibiting any lottery or game of chance on the fair grounds or within one mile thereof and that no articles used in such games shall be sold in the exposition.

The vote then recurred on the amendment of W. A. Stone, of Pennsylvania, providing that no portion of the money should be paid to the exposition management unless they could file an agreement with the secretary of the treasury closing the exposition on Sunday, and further, that no intoxicating liquors be sold at any time on the grounds. After frequent parliamentary inquiry and an effort by Mr. Holman to temporarily pass this portion of the bill, the vote was taken, resulting: ayes 27, noes 122. Mr. Stone demanded tellers. This was lost; ayes 43, noes 124.

Mr. Dockery, democrat, Missouri, then offered the following as a substitute for Mr. Johnson's original proposition (the latter withholding the appropriation for the fair unless its doors were closed on Sunday)—provided, that the government exhibit shall not be open to the public on Sunday. This was finally adopted—141 to 36.

Mr. Atkinson, republican, Pennsylvania, offered a proposition that no intoxicating liquors shall at any time be sold in any government building. Agreed to—94 to 74.

Mr. Lynch, of Wisconsin, gave notice that he would call for a separate vote on each of these propositions in the house.

About 1:45 this afternoon an alarm of fire called the department to the two-story frame building owned by Chas. Gable, on Monroe street opposite Houghton's foundry. The fire was promptly extinguished with but a few dollars' loss. The cause of the fire was the explosion of a gasoline stove.

NEUHAUSEL BROS.

When the Romans manumitted a slave his head was adorned with a small red cloth cap. As soon as this was done he was known as a libertinus, or freedman, and his name was registered among others of the city's "tribes." In the year 263, when Saturninus invaded the capital he hoisted a cap on the point of his spear, to indicate that all slaves who rallied around this standard should be free. This was the origin of the liberty cap, still used in art as a symbol.

They Want to be Let Alone.

That was a neat rebuke to republican race-ranters, given by a colored member on the floor of the House yesterday. Gentlemen Henderson of Iowa, and Johnson of Indiana, were shouting out the friendship of Harrison for the negro, yea and nay—the former insisting that the negro had been snubbed and ignored by the administration, and Mr. Johnson contending that the president's advocacy of the force bill proved his friendliness—when Mr. Chatham, of North Carolina, colored member, arose. As soon as he could make his voice heard he besought the gentlemen to ignore the politics in the case and give their attention to the question under consideration, namely: an appropriation for an exhibit of the work of his people at the World's fair. The colored member was shrewd enough to understand that the ranting of his republican confreres meant what it always means: party capital with no material interest or honest concern for the negro, involved. He called them down in a neat and business like manner.

The New State Librarian.

If Gov. McKinley had in mind the selection of the very best republican in Ohio for State Librarian, he didn't go far out of the way when he appointed Mr. Joseph P. Smith, an editorial writer on the Commercial of this city.

Mr. Smith is not a Toledoan, though occupying a position on a Toledo newspaper. Formerly of Clermont county, and for a number of years the editor of the Urbana Citizen, he has a reputation that is good among the brethren. He was Senate Journal Clerk of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, and was one of the most capable of all who have filled that important position. He is a lover of books, very methodical in his work, a gentleman at all times, and in his keeping the State Library will be excellently cared for. The Bee congratulates both both Gov. McKinley and Mr. Smith on this appointment.

The republican situation at large is well illustrated by a letter which Mr. Henry C. Payne, member of the national republican committee of Wisconsin wrote to Secretary Rusk this week. In substance he said that the electoral vote of Wisconsin will be cast for the democratic candidate if Harrison shall be renominated at Minneapolis. Since the Blaine revolt assumes formidable proportions the leaders grow bold and say what they think about Benny and his weak administration. On the other hand the President's friends are defiant, and led by Steve Elkins, Secretary of War, the machine is determined to snatch Blaine's plume before it can wave over their defeat. The row grows more interesting day by day and threatens the complete disruption of the party before November.

What of the state which ought to be behind the president, Indiana? The republicans who would encompass Harrison's defeat take no note of what Indiana republicans think of this snubbing of their president—their own Hoosier neighbor of good stock. It is very certain that the nomination of Blaine will take Indiana out of the uncertain column, and put it in the reliable democratic column. This row has its pleasant side for democrats. It makes the election of the democratic candidate certain beyond peradventure.

The republicans of the Eighth Ohio district nominated Col. L. M. Strong, of Kenton, for congress. No better candidate could have been selected, and as the district is largely republican he will be elected. He is an old Seneca county boy, a soldier of Gibson's Forty-ninth, and when the war closed he was a colonel. He served two terms as state senator, and was appointed judge of the common pleas court by Gov. Foster, to fill a vacancy. His record is good.

Imagine President Harrison braving public opinion in this country by giving Raum a foreign mission! The president who would do that, or retain the smutted official in his present position deserves to be downed by his party in convention, and if not there, then at the polls by an outraged country.

We have great respect for Hon. Archie McGregor, of Canton, but he is old enough to keep his personal grievances from the public. Those who know him best understand that he is just now violently opposing the nomination of Grover Cleveland because President Cleveland did not appoint him postmaster at Canton.

The renomination of Congressman Hare in the Seneca district is a graceful compliment to a worthy representative and the resolutions of the convention indorsing Cleveland are in accord with general democratic sentiment of this state.

The republican congressional convention at Mansfield on Wednesday was stormy and disastrous to several ambitious members of the legislature. Among others who were knocked down and dragged out was Speaker L. C. Laylin, of Huron.

There seems but one graceful thing left for Mr. Harrison to do, and that is to declare, officially, that inasmuch as the sentiment of his party is for Blaine, he withdraws from the contest. But Mr. Harrison is not a graceful man.

Down in the Steubenville district Hollingsworth and Richards were again turned down by the republicans and Poorman, of Belmont, the present secretary of state, was nominated for congress.

Elkins is fighting Blaine. Singular. Steve was chairman of the national republican executive committee in 1884.

The "fat-fryers" anticipate a harvest of good things if Blaine shall be the candidate.

The General Assembly at Portland sent fraternal greeting with the usual reference to a bible text, to the Conference at Omaha. The Secretary read the greetings and then turned to the text and added: "Parents, provoke not your children to wrath." He saw his mistake, readjusted his spectacles and hunted the right passage. Inasmuch as the conference had just decided that the young people of the church must not dance, the majority were inclined to apply the mistaken text as a providential interference and warning.

Gov. Brown, of Kentucky, was petitioned by a number of mountaineers "that the sentence of one William Johnson for stealing an ax, be suspended to allow William to put in his spring crops." Justice is keen-eyed and strong-gripped in this country when it gets hold of a villain. The petition was not granted.

The Assembly at Portland decides, by revision, that all infants are saved. Alas for the little ones which went to their account before the Portland convocation!

Blaine received a group of reporters at the Fifth Avenue, and ——— talked about the Damrosch baby.

A son of Cornelius Vanderbilt is dead. Not so much fuss made about it as when an Astor dies. But then, there has been no recent scandal in the family.

EXCITEMENT IN THE HOUSE.

The Negro Question Stirs Up a Lively Debate.

Washington, May 26.—There was surprise in the house when Representative Henderson of Iowa arraigned President Harrison and the governors of states for failure to give representation to colored people in connection with the world's fair.

He was followed by Mr. Johnson, of Indiana, in a speech eulogistic of President Harrison, denunciatory of the democratic party in its treatment of the negro in the south, and strongly in favor of the force bill. There was great excitement and confusion during the delivery of Mr. Johnson's speech, and the chairman was at times unable to preserve order. Members crowded into the aisles, raising their voices and gesticulating wildly, and the house became a perfect bedlam.

ROMANISM DENOUNCED.

Religion, not Land, the Trouble in Ireland.

London, May 26.—A conference of the Protestant alliance was held at Exeter hall yesterday. The dean of Achonry, Ireland, presided. A number of speeches were made in which the "pernicious influence of Romanism" was denounced.

The dean of Achonry declared that as an Irishman he boldly asserted that it was religion, not land, that caused the disorder in Ireland. He declared that wherever Romanism advanced it brought disorder. Romanism, he added, made slaves, while Protestantism made men.

FOUND HIM GUILTY.

Lockport, N. Y., May 26.—The jury in the case of Charles Kelly, on trial for the killing of John Bitzke at Niagara Falls, in March last, brought in a verdict last night of murder in the second degree. For the same crime Wm. Parker, colored, was convicted last Saturday of murder in the first degree. A third accomplice is to be tried on the same charge.

DAMAGED BY STORM.

London, May 26.—Great damage has been done to crops in the south of England. The crops have been damaged, if not destroyed, by a terrific storm which has passed over that section. The rain fell in torrents and was accompanied by one of the worst hailstorms ever seen in that part of the country.

CHOLERA RAGING.

London, May 26.—A Calcutta dispatch says that cholera continues its ravages in Serinegur, one of the cities of Cashmere. The population of the city is about 51,000 and the disease if it continues as fatal as at present will depopulate the place. Deaths are occurring at the rate of 500 daily.

BARONDESS SENTENCED.

New York, May 26.—Joseph Barondess, who was convicted of extortion, and whose conviction has just been affirmed by the court of appeals, was to-day sentenced to one year and nine months imprisonment by Judge Ingraham.

TO ABANDON THE ROAD

The Glassboro Electric Line to be Transferred

Between Manhattan and Edgewater—Proposition Made to Manager Lang, Who Will Consider It.

W. S. Thurstin, Gus Lang and others interested in Ottawa river resorts, have made a proposition to Manager Lang, of the Consolidated street railroad, relative to an electric road to Point Place.

The Glassboro line is not a paying institution, and as the line is almost new, it is proposed to move the road and transplant it to Manhattan, thence to Point Place.

Manager Lang thinks very favorably of the project, and if the council will allow the road to be removed the project will undoubtedly go through.

Outside of this no definite action has been taken. The right of way has been secured, and an electric railroad to Edgewater via Kramer's is one of the probabilities of the near future.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Blaine's presence in the city caused a sensible perturbation in the federal offices. It is no longer "Anyone to beat Blaine," but "Anything to save Harrison."—New York World.

The sugar trust, by the aid of the duty on refined sugar, is enabled to tax the people of the United States about $1.40 per family annually. We shall lose temporarily this summer about 100,000 population—American visitors to Europe, but will gain enough by permanent immigration to make good the loss. During the ten months ending with April no less than 435,958 foreigners came to make their homes in this country. General Dyrenforth devoted yesterday morning to elucidating his rain-mill to the house committee on agriculture—rather an inopportune time for such argument, one would think, with the country already suffering from an over-production of his specialty. If artificial rain production be a fact it should have demonstrated itself ere this in the reports of the weather bureau. In the absence of such demonstration it will be set down by the masses as empirical, or, at least, as too largely a matter of theory for the uses of a government which has so many practical claims upon its resources.—Philadelphia Record.

MASONIC INSURANCE.

Some Changes Made in the Constitution,

Bringing it Down to a More Modern Basis.

The Assessments Will be Graded According to the Age of the Member—Meeting Yesterday.

A meeting of the membership of the Northwestern Ohio Masonic Relief association was held at Masonic temple yesterday for the purpose of considering several amendments to the constitution. There were over two hundred members in attendance, most of them from northwestern Ohio towns outside of Toledo.

When this organization was formed 21 years ago it was one of the first mutual benefit insurance associations, and the assessments were made $1.10 for each member, regardless of age. Since that time many new insurance associations of a like character have been organized, but in all of them the assessments have been equitably graded according to the age of the member and the consequent risk. This has made competition so sharp that it became necessary to change the assessment plan of this organization and grade it in a like manner.

Before the meeting yesterday the proposed amendments were strongly opposed by the older members, whose assessments would be increased, but when the plan was explained at the meeting the amendments were carried by a vote of 186 to 15. A comparison of the old articles of the constitution and the new one will show the changes made. This new plan is to go into effect as soon as it can be properly arranged by the board of directors.

The following are the amendments voted upon:

ARTICLE IX.
Membership.

Sec. 2. Any affiliated master Mason in good standing, and in good health, not over 45 years of age (except Class C, which shall consist of members not over 65 years of age), may, by a majority vote of the board of directors, become a member of the association. Expulsion from the fraternity shall immediately terminate membership in the association. Indefinite suspension by a lodge, for unmasonic conduct, may terminate membership in the association by a vote of the board of directors.

Sec. 4. The fee for membership in Class "A" or Class "B" shall be as follows: Applicants 21 years of age and not over 30, $2; over 30 and not over 40, $4; over 40 and not over 45, $6; provided, that applicants desiring to join both said classes can do so on payment of one dollar additional to the above rates, and the fee to members of either class, not over 45 years of age, who desire to join the other, shall be $1. Class "C," from 21 to 65, $5.

ARTICLE X.
Benefit and Contingent Fund.

Sec. 1. One dollar of each membership fee, and all of each assessment except 10 cents shall be set apart in anticipation of death, and shall be known as the benefit fund. The balance of said fee, the 10 cents of the assessment, the interest received from investments, and all other receipts shall constitute a contingent fund, out of which the current expenses of the association shall be paid, which fund, or such portion thereof, not required for immediate use, shall be safely and judiciously invested.

ARTICLE XIII.
Assessments, Forfeitures and Restorations.

Sec. 1. Upon the death of any member, the secretary shall mail a printed notice of the same to each survivor of the class or classes (except as provided in Sec. 2, Art. X.), calling for an assessment for $1.10; except in Class "C" the assessment shall be $1.10 for each member under 46 years of age, $1.15 at age of 46, and an additional 5 cents for each year over 46 (the amount to be determined by the age of the member at the date of joining, and stand fixed at that for the remainder of his life).

The proposed amendments to the constitution are as follows:

Amend Article IX., section 2, so as to read:

Any affiliated master Mason in good standing, good health, and not over 53 years of age, may, by a majority vote of the board of directors, become a member of the association. Expulsion from the fraternity shall immediately terminate membership in the association. Indefinite suspension by a lodge for unmasonic conduct may terminate membership in the association, by a vote of the board of directors.

Amend Article IX., section 4, so as to read:

The fee for membership shall be $5.00 for any one class, and $2.00 for each additional class.

Amend Article X, Section I, so as to read:—

The Benefit Fund shall consist of $1.00 received from each membership fee, and from each assessment a sum equal to $1.00 for each paying member of each class. All monies received by and belonging to this association other than the benefit fund, shall be credited to the Contingent Fund of each class, provided the board of directors shall have power to appropriate any surplus in such fund to the Benefit Fund of said class.

Amend Article XIII, Section I, so as to read:—

Each member of the association shall be assessed according to the following schedule of ages:

From 21 to 30 years, inclusive	$ .55
From 31 to 36 years, inclusive	.70
From 37 to 42 years, inclusive	.85
From 43 to 48 years, inclusive	1.10
From 49 to 53 years, inclusive	1.45
From 54 to 57 years, inclusive	1.70
From 58 to 61 years, inclusive	2.10
From 62 and over	2.50

His assessment shall be increased at the commencement of each of the periods of years according to the above table of rates; provided, that no member shall have his assessment increased more than three times after the date of his certificate.

Upon the death of a member of either class of this association, each surviving member shall be notified by the secretary, stating the fact and the amount which the member is assessed, according to the foregoing table and rules, on account of said death.

THE ANNUAL REPORT

Of the County Children's Home Trustees

Filed With the County Auditor Today—The Institution in Splendid Shape.

The trustees of the Childrens' home, Messrs. S. C. Schenck, A. R. Rood and L. G. Richardson, filed their annual report at the county auditor's office to-day.

The current expenses of the institution for the year were $13,195.91.

At present there are 151 children at the home, 68 being admitted during the year.

Aside from the number enrolled, 48 children were returned to parents, seven placed in good homes, three transferred to the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' home, one died, six absconded.

The report shows the institution to be in a prosperous and healthy condition, and by the careful management of the trustees much good is being accomplished.

DIVIDED ON SILVER.

A Significant Vote in the United States Senate.

Washington, May 26.—The resolution offered by Mr. Morgan on the 31st of March directing the committee on finance to make an examination and report in relation to currency and coinage, and as to the effect of the act of July, 1890, on the prices of silver bullion, was taken up yesterday.

Mr. Morgan called for the yeas and nays on the adoption of the resolution. Mr. Morrill moved that the resolution be referred to the committee on finance. Mr. Morgan demanded the yeas and nays on the motion to refer. The motion was defeated—yeas 17, nays 28. The democratic senators who voted yea were Messrs. Gray, Palmer and Vilas.

The republican senators who voted nay were Messrs. Allen, Mitchell, Paddock, Pettigrew, Power, Sanders, Shoup, Squire, Stanford, Stewart, Teller and Wolcott. Mr. Hill entered the chamber while the vote was being taken, but did not vote.

Mr. Morgan modified the resolution by adding a new paragraph instructing the finance committee to report a supplementary act providing for the coinage of gold and silver bullion on equal terms as to each metal, and authorizing depositors of gold or silver bullion to receive coin certificates at its mint value.

Sunk in Lake Michigan.

Chicago, May 26.—The passenger steamers Kalamazoo and Pilgrim, of the Williams Transportation line, collided in midlake, off the harbor. A great hole was stove in the bow of the Kalamazoo, and a panic ensued among the 50 passengers, the men, women and children rushing about the decks crying for succor, but in a short time the Pilgrim was brought about so as to take off the passengers and thus all were saved.

The Pilgrim towed the disabled steamer for several hours and then found it necessary to cut her adrift. In a few minutes the Kalamazoo sank to the bottom and the Pilgrim resumed her journey alone, bringing to this port the passengers and crew of the foundered vessel.

COLORED DEMOCRATS.

Senator Hill's Name Loudly Applauded.

Denver, Colo., May 26.—At the democratic state convention the report of the committee on resolutions was lengthy. It denounced the policy of the present administration in relation to the removal of the Indians to their reservation in Utah; asked for a modification of the existing tariff laws and demanded as a right the free and unlimited coinage of silver. It was resolved that the delegates to the national convention use every endeavor to secure a free silver plank, demanding the restoration of silver and free and unlimited coinage, and it was declared the sense of the democrats of the state that they could have little hope of the election of the Chicago nominee unless such declaration was made. A minority report was presented to the effect that the convention support no man for the presidency or vice-presidency who is not unequivocally in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and that the delegates to the Chicago convention be instructed that in case the candidates were not in favor of silver to withdraw from the convention.

The minority report was tabled and the majority report adopted.

John J. Ryan, Albert Harrington, Hon. A. Walters and George Jacobs were elected alternates to Chicago.

The following are the delegates and alternates elected by two congressional districts: First congressional district, Frank Adams, of Crede, and William Bailey, of Durango, and alternates James McClure and W. G. Haynes. Second district, Martin Currigan, of Denver, and C. Donovan, of Boulder; alternates, Col. B. F. Montgomery and A. D. French. Every mention of Senator David B. Hill's name was loudly applauded.

THE FIRST BLUEBIRD.

Just rain and snow! and rain again!
And dribble! drip! and blow!
Then snow! and thaw! and slush! and then—
Some more rain and snow!

This morning I was 'most afeard
To wake up—when, I jing!
I see the sun shine out and heerd
The first bluebird of Spring!

Mother she'd raised the window some—
And in across the orchard come,
Soft as an angel's wing,
A breezy, treesy, beesy hum,
Too sweet for anything!

The Winter's shroud was rent apart—
The sun burst forth in glee—
And when that bluebird sung, my heart
Hopped out o' bed with me!

The custom of "drinking healths" had a most curious origin. In the days when the Danes lorded it over England they had a very common habit of stabbing Englishmen in the throat when drinking. To avoid this villainy a man when drinking would request some of the sitters-by to be his pledge of surety while taking his draught. Hence the custom.

A pneumatic tube connects Paris with Berlin. It is used for postal purposes, and makes it possible for a letter mailed in Paris to be delivered in Berlin in 35 minutes. That there still is a field for invention in electric meters, is shown by the number of patents for devices designed to record the flow of current, continually issued from the patent office. A good meter should be reliable, accurate, substantial, cheap and easy to read, but notwithstanding the work of various inventors during several years, there is no such instrument on the market to-day.

In connection with the recent experiments in high potential discharges of great frequency, made by Tesla and Thompson, and the long-distance power transmission tests in Germany, it is interesting to note that the use of oil as an insulator, whose value was so well proved for use in these different connections, is authoritively stated not to be patentable, and the use of this insulating material is, therefore, free to everybody.

According to the Boston Journal of Commerce, an undertaking of considerable magnitude and importance in mining operations is to be commenced in Ishpeming, Mich., as soon as the weather will permit. Howell, of New York, for pumping the water from Lake Angeline, under which each of the companies has a large bed of ore. The depth of the lake is 43 feet, and the estimated amount of water is 800,000,000 gallons. The contract calls for the completion of the work in five months.

THE FARMER AND THE SNAKE

Again I was conscious of seeing my farmer friend, Biloch Khan.

This time he had a huge snake coiled up in an uncomfortable sort of way round his neck. I heard the beast say—"That is downright nonsense! Of course I have a perfect right to change my mind if I wish."

It looked very unpleasant for poor Bill, but still I was bound to admit that there seemed to be some truth in what the snake said.

The farmer had a big stick in his hand. He was standing near a cattle pen made of furze bushes, within the enclosure of which stood a low olive tree. The furze had had somehow caught fire. The whole cattle pen was in a blaze, and the olive tree, too, was rapidly being consumed.

Instinctively I knew all that had happened.

Biloch Khan was walking toward his home when he was attracted by the flames and cries which proceeded from the tree.

As he approached he heard a voice—"For pity's sake get me down from here. I am being roasted alive! Quick! quick!"

The man looked up to the tree, and when he saw the snake he boldly asked: "Give me your news, O snake! Is it well with you?"

"Oh, do not bother me for news," answered the reptile, for once forgetting his manners. "Get me out of this, and then we will talk about news."

"Nay, nay! not so fast," was the reply. "If I help you, you will make a return by biting me."

"No," said the snake. "I promise I will not. Do be quick; I assure you it is very warm here. The flames have caught the end of my tail. I can feel it quite blistered already."

"Will you really promise me?"

"Yes, yes; I will promise anything. Save me!"

On this Biloch Khan relented, and saying to himself it must be rather unpleasant to have one's tail roasted, he held up his stick, and allowed the snake to coil himself around and crawl down. But not contented with the stick, he glided rapidly from it on to the farmer's arm, and then settled around his neck, as we have seen him.

He then said—

"Now I will tell you my news; it is that I am going to bite you."

"Oh, but," pleaded the man, "you said you would not. You promised most faithfully."

"I know I did," returned the snake, "but I have changed my mind."

"But you cannot. A promise is a promise, and you made me a very solemn one."

Then said the snake, as we have already seen:

"That is downright nonsense! Of course I have a right to change my mind, if I wish."

"I dispute that," was the reply, "for in the first place, you had no mind to change, and in the second place, if you had, it is a privilege that belongs to ladies only."

"Ha, ha!" laughed the snake, "I accept what you say, but I am the exception that proves the rule. This is what men themselves say, and though I do not know what it means, I can apply it to my own case."

"Well," said the Biloch Khan again, after a brief period of reflection, "it is an awkward position, for, you see, we differ so completely in our notions of what is right. I can only make one suggestion, and it is that you do not bite me yet, but that we submit the matter to a judge to decide for us."

"Agreed," said the snake.

It seemed to be a very queer proceeding, and yet off they start in search of some one to decide their case. It must have been very awkward for the poor farmer, for the snake stretched out about two feet of his length from the man's shoulder, and then turned his head around and brought his fangs within about half an inch of the wretched fellow's nose.

They had not gone far before they saw a fox crossing the road.

"Here is the umpire!" exclaimed the man, and then he cried out. "Welcome, oh, fox! you are come in the nick of time."

"Salaam," returned the fox, "give me your news."

"My news," said the man, "is that this snake and I have a difficult dispute which we cannot settle. We wish you to be umpire."

"How is this?" asked the fox. "I cannot decide this matter while the plaintiff and the defendant are thus, one sitting on the other. Before I hear the case you, O snake, must come down, and sit like a reasonable being on the ground."

"There," said Biloch Khan to himself, "I said the snake had no mind, and the fox bears me out."

The snake then came down and composed himself on the ground.

"Now," continued the fox, addressing Biloch Khan, "tell me your story."

"My story," said he, "is as follows: I was going home. I saw a cattle pen on fire. I heard cries from a tree within the inclosure. They came from the snake, who was being roasted. I saved him after he had promised not to bite me. When he was safe he settled on my neck, and said he would bite me. Then we agreed to go to a judge. All else is well."

"And your account, please," blandly smiled the fox, as he turned to the snake.

"My account," he said, "is the same as Biloch Khan's. His facts are correct, but I claim my right to allow my opinions their full and natural development. I made the promise in all good faith, fully intending at the moment I made it to carry it out. I did carry it out until circumstances changed so much that I felt bound in conscience to bite Biloch Khan. It is just the natural development of thought which some people call change of mind. All else is well."

"Bless you both," said the fox. He took two minutes to consider the case. He then continued: "In this weigthy case it is needless that I should make known the grave considerations which have led to my decision. As you have both agreed to abide by what I say, I give my decision at once. It is this (turning to the former): that you, Biloch Khan, take your stick and knock the snake on the head."

Biloch Khan did so, and the snake died.

I thought the fox was another exception, and that to his evil race. But whether he proved any rule or not I could not find out.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

CHINESE AS PERJURERS.

Having had this experience with them, I have observed their testimony in the courts of San Francisco and on the Pacific coast generally, says Senator Stewart in Congressional Record. There have been five or six thousand of these cases, and the Chinamen all come in and tell the same story. They have one man bailed out and substitute another for him and play all sorts of games on the courts.

Because you have got a law, if you think it practicable that you can remove a Chinaman who is improperly here, if you think you can get one out of 100,000 of them in twenty years and make a case to extradite him, then I shall be disappointed. I do not believe it can be done. A white man, a stranger, cannot tell Chinamen apart. They will substitute one for another right before your eyes and then go right on with the case. (Laughter.) They understand all these games to such a degree that the men who lecture on sleight-of-hand would have no chance with them. They would play in court a game that no lecturer on sleight-of-hand ever dreamed of as far as that was concerned. (Laughter.)

The king of Siam recently cut the first turf for the new railroad at Bangkok. The minister of public works read a short address to which the king replied, and then the king, taking an ivory handled spade, thrust the silver blade into the turf, which he transferred to an ebony wheelbarrow. The crown prince turned the wheelbarrow along a carpeted track about thirty yards in length, followed by the king, the royal family and the assembled guests. The turf, when removed from the wheelbarrow, was sprinkled with consecrated water from a golden ewer by four priests. The national anthem was played and that ended the ceremony.

A CRAFTY CORRESPONDENT.

He Won the Friendship of Senator Edmunds at the Dinner Table.

Senator Edmunds' recent presence in the capital brought out the story of how one newspaper correspondent managed to get into the good graces of the hale Vermonter, says Kate Field's Washington. The correspondent had occasion to visit the senator at his Burlington home, and after a cordial reception was invited to sit down to dinner with Senator and Mrs. Edmunds. It was a charming scene, and memorable for several incidents, but it is indelibly impressed on the guest's mind by one dish that was served. As the maid appeared with what would naturally have been the roast, Mrs. Edmunds said: "I fear you are not fond of this dish. It is stewed calf's head and brains."

Now, if there is one thing that the guest at that dinner holds in special horror it is calf's head. Fortunately the lady at the foot of the table went on:

"It is the senator's favorite dish."

Now, the correspondent was particularly anxious to stand well in the senator's favor. He simply shut his eyes to facts, and promptly vowed that calf's head was his favorite dish, too. The senator looked at the platter with a complacency and served the head, but hesitated at the brains, suggesting:

"Perhaps you don't like stewed brains."

Now, while the head was bad enough, the brains were a nightmare, but thinking there is no liar like a cheerful one, the correspondent loudly protested that a diet of stewed brains was what he preferred above all known delicacies.

Edmunds at two plates of head and brain trimmings, and the sufferer at his right conquered one portion, imagining all the while that he felt the ocean waves see-sawing up and down. The sensation was so unhappy that if it hadn't been a case of eat or fall from grace the calf's head would have gone begging, as far as the correspondent was concerned. But virtue gets its reward once in a while in this world, and about two weeks later when the senator had declined to see a dozen other correspondents he took the bold devotee pro tem. of calf's head into his confidence, and rewarded him with a much desired scoop. The correspondent lays it all to brains—stewed and otherwise.

TANNERIES SHUT DOWN.

Johnstown, Pa., May 26.—On account of the overstocked market, the tanneries of the United States have decided to close for a period of 60 days, beginning June 1. The Dell tannery, owned by R. W. The closing will relieve the market of about 2,500,000 hides, the number that would have been tanned in 60 days.

A PROFITABLE TALK.

Our Special Reporter Secures the Facts.

He Determined to Thoroughly Investigate a Subject That Is Causing Much Comment, and He Has Succeeded.

(N. Y. Sun.)

Two days ago one of the most prominent professional men in New York published a letter so outspoken, so unusual as to cause extensive talk and awaken much comment. Yesterday I interviewed the gentleman as to the contents of the letter, and he fully confirmed it in every respect. He not only did this, but he also mentioned a number of unusual cases which had come under his observation in which little less than a miracle had been performed.

So important has the entire subject become that I determined to investigate it to the bottom, and accordingly called upon Mr. Albert G. Eaves, the prominent costumer at No. 63 East Twelfth street, the gentleman mentioned in my interview with the doctor yesterday. Mr. Eaves has made quite a name. A complete knowledge of history, an appreciation of art and reliability are essential in his profession.

"Mr. Eaves," I said, "I learn that your wife has had a most unusual experience; are you willing to describe it?"

The gentleman thought a moment and an expression of pleasure passed over his face. "When I think," he said, "of what my wife once passed through and the condition she is in to-day, I cannot but feel gratitude. Nearly three years ago she was at the point of death. You can understand how sick she was when I say she was totally blind and lay in a state of unconsciousness. Three doctors attended her and all agreed that her death was only a question of hours, perhaps minutes."

"May I ask what the doctors called her trouble?"

"Uraemia and puerperal convulsions, so you can imagine how badly she must have been. At last one doctor (it was Dr. R. A. Gunn), said that as she was still able to swallow one more attempt might be made and a medicine was accordingly given her. She seemed to improve at once; in a few days her sight was restored. 'I have had a long, long sleep,' she said, upon recovering consciousness, and I am rejoiced to say that she was restored to perfect health wholly through the use of Warner's Safe Cure, which was the remedy we administered when she was past all consciousness."

I looked at Mr. Eaves as he said this. His face was beaming with satisfaction. He continued:

"The physicians told us, after my wife's recovery, that she could never endure child-birth, and yet we have a fine boy nearly a year old, and do not know what sickness is. I attribute it all to the wonderful power of Warner's Safe Cure. Why, my sister, who resides in Virginia, was, a while ago, afflicted precisely as my wife had been. I at once advised her to use this same great remedy; it cured her promptly."

"You find that it is specially adapted for women, do you?" I inquired.

"By no means. I have known it to be wonderful in its power in the case of gentlemen to whom I have recommended it. I speak from my experience entirely, and you should not be surprised that I am so firm a believer in this discovery, which has done so much for me."

I was not surprised. I saw by every word, by every look, that Mr. Eaves meant all he said. I had ample confirmation of Dr. Gunn's letter and interview, and I do not wonder that people who have seen such things, who have watched their dearest friends go down into the dark valley and be brought back into the light, should be both enthusiastic and grateful. I, myself, caught the spirit and I shall be glad if the investigations I have made prove of profit to those who may read them.

WAS NOT DEAD,

But Only Attempted to Fool Insurance Companies.

The Swindler, However, is Discovered and Comes to Grief in Cal fornia.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 25.—A sensational arrest has been made by the police here. About April 1, 1886, Bryant B. Crandall, of Buffalo, N. Y., after insuring his life for about $20,000, disappeared. His clothing, found on the bank at Niagara Falls, seemed to point to suicide. Three months later a dead body was found below the falls, answering Crandall's description. Crandall's wife and relatives positively identified the body as that of Crandall, and part of the insurance money was paid.

The insurance associations being still suspicious the matter was taken into court in March, 1887. Crandall was seen on the streets of Los Angeles by a prominent citizen of Buffalo and the New York authorities were notified. They commenced a search for the man but he had disappeared. Some months ago Crandall was again seen in Los Angeles and again disappeared. From that time Chief Glass and his detective force have been on his track, and he was finally located at Newhall, this county, where he was working a petroleum well. When the officer reached Newhall, Crandall had again disappeared, but was easily tracked to this city and located in the county hospital, where he was being treated for injuries received in the oil country last Thursday.

Chief Glass and Detective Moffett arrested him and he was conveyed to the city prison, where he has since been confined. The matter was kept secret for fear of habeas corpus proceedings. The New York authorities were notified of the capture, when requisition was forwarded to Gov. Markham, and to-morrow Detective Diehl, of Buffalo, will arrive here for his prisoner.

MILLIONS OF MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

HE NEEDS A REST.

New York May 26.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, whose vigorous campaign against all forms of vice has recently brought him into prominence, is about to take a vacation. He will sail on the Germanic for Liverpool next Wednesday, and will remain in Europe until the middle of September.

TALKING OF UNION.

Ottawa, Ont., May 26.—The imperial authorities are urging the Dominion government to open negotiations with New Foundland for union. The idea is that the ancient colony shall enter the confederation as a province and be represented in the federal parliament by eight members and four senators.

DOES THIS DESCRIBE YOUR BABY?

Teething is painful, sleep is poor, unable to retain its food, troubled with colic—these are dangerous symptoms. Medicine is not needed. Pure food—lactated food—that the druggist keeps, will make the child happy, healthy and hearty. Any parent who sees the little one drooping, fading or dying, should use lactated food. It will positively save life.

NATIONAL FISHERMEN.

New York, May 26.—(Special)—There was a large attendance at the meeting of the National Fish and Game association yesterday, many foreigners being present. The next meeting will be held in Chicago. The delegates to New York were royally treated.

THE QUADRA WRECKED.

Victoria, B. C., May 26.—News has been received here of the wreck of the government steamer Quadra, on her way to Bering sea, with Prof. Macoun, in search of sealing information. Mr. Macoun and the captain reached here Tuesday night. The vessel was wrecked on Queen Charlotte island.

THE BREAD-CRUST MAN.

The Clever Trick Which Enriches a Shrewd Tramp.

In the multitude of beggars who roam New York's streets there is at least one unique, says the Recorder of that city. He is a man well on in years, rather more genteel in appearance than the rest of his kind, and possibly more intelligent. He frequents the uptown thoroughfares in which women predominate, and his singularity consists in the fact that he is a beggar who does not beg.

A man who has come across him several times in the past five years, met him again the other afternoon in the shopping district of Sixth avenue, between Fourteenth and Twenty-third street. It was the same old affecting game, and it was provocative of the same old results.

The beggar had been walking in front of two elderly, benevolent looking ladies for a distance of a block or more. He did not approach them; nor was he seemingly desirous of attracting their attention. But a close observer would have noticed that he was perfectly conscious when they had their eyes on him.

Suddenly he stooped on the curbstone and picked something out of the gutter. He carried it to his mouth and pretended to eat ravenously. One hand partly hid his lips as if he were ashamed to be seen; but it was quite and ostentatiously evident that he was munching a dirty crust of bread.

A murmur of compassion broke from one of the old ladies. It must have been a welcome sound to the man, for by it he knew that the subjects of his little game had "bit." Sometimes they don't.

Presently the old lady, opening her purse, pressed a dollar bill on the old man. At first he looked surprised; he always does. But he did not refuse it. And shame-facedly he thrust the bill and the crust into a pocket and moved quickly away.

"Poor fellow!" the old lady was heard to exclaim. "It was so humiliating for him! Think of his picking it up out of the gutter!"

But he did not pick the crust out of the gutter. He had it in his hand all the time. And he didn't eat any of it, either, for that would have been impairing his stock-in-trade. He took a turn around the block and bobbed up again in Sixth avenue, just above Nineteenth street.

Here he did his little trick again, and got a silver coin that looked like 50 cents. Another turn around the block, and he was at Twentieth street. A fresh performance netted him another coin. Then he tried what he no doubt would call the "doubling act;" he didn't go around the block, but hastened to get in front of a lady dismounting from a carriage. She didn't see him or didn't want to, and his touching performance was thrown away. However, he got another bill in the next block a few minutes afterward.

The man who had been watching him all this time began to think he was making money too easily, so presently he approached him.

"I haven't seen you around for some time," he said.

The beggar turned quickly and looked a little alarmed. But that lasted only a moment.

"Business pretty brisk this afternoon—eh?" asked the man.

The beggar scowled and mumbled something. Then he started down the avenue at a good rattling pace, and was soon lost in the crowd.

ROOSEVELT TALKS OUT.

He Don't Like What Mr. Wanamaker Said

About Him and He Answers the Postmaster-General Very Plainly.

Washington, May 25.—Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt appeared before the house committee on civil service to-day in connection with the inquiry into alleged violations of the civil service law by federal officials in Baltimore. Mr. Roosevelt placed before the committee a letter which he sent on Monday last to Postmaster General Wanamaker. This letter reads as follows:

"In the report of your inspectors on the Balitimore postoffice submitted by you to the committee of the house, these inspectors state that my investigation was "unfair and partial in the extreme," that my questions were "calculated to deceive and mislead such as no committee of investigation, hunting for nothing but the truth and desirous of doing exact justice, would practice or allow," and that my report on the postmaster's conduct was not only unjustifiable, but "malicous." These are reflections, not only on my actions but on my motives.

There is no need of commenting on their gross impertinence and impropriety, used as they are by the subordinates of one department in reference to one of the heads of another who is, like yourself, responsible to the president only But I have nothing to do with these subordinates. It is with you, the official head, responsible for their actions, that I have to deal. By submitting this report, without expressly disclaiming any personal responsibility for it, you seem to assume that responsibility and make it your own. I can hardly suppose that this was your intention, but I shall be obliged to treat these statements which in any way reflect upon my acts and motives, as yours, unless you disavow them with the same publicity with which they were made to the committee. I therefore respectfully ask whether you will or will not make such disavowal so that I may govern myself accordingly and not be guilty of any injustice."

"To this," said Mr. Roosevelt, "I received no answer and I am obliged to assume that the postmaster general makes these statements his own. The postmaster general says, in speaking of the inspector's report, that it is not for him to decide whether it contains anything that can be construed as disrespectful or hostile to the civil service commission. On the contrary, he is precisely the very person who is called upon to make this decision, and when he acts upon this report and submits it to this committee without expressly repudiating the offensive paragraphs, he thereby makes it his own. I have never sheltered myself behind my subordinates and I decline to allow the postmaster general to shelter himself behind his. The statements quoted in my letter are slanderous falsehoods."

A STRANGE CASE.

An Important Witness at Van Wert Disappears.

Van Wert, May 26.—Miss Mary Kutsch, whom John Maloney assaulted, has mysteriously disappeared. The big knife used inflicted a serious gash across the face and nose, but not of a fatal character. Notwithstanding her narrow escape from murder and the ugly wound received, she was able to be up, though suffering seriously from nervousness.

When Mr. Maloney appeared for preliminary hearing the young woman's home was visited by officers, but she was nowhere to be found. There is a deep mystery connected with the case.

Mr. Maloney's trial has been continued.

POOR "OLD HUTCH"

A Harmless Wanderer of New York Streets.

Not Much Like the Man That Once Held the Chicago Wheat Market in His Hand.

New York, May 25.—The vagaries of Benjamin P. Hutchinson, or "Old Hutch," as he is everywhere known, are attracting more attention now than at any time since he came here. Insomnia or eccentric has transformed the man whose simple habits were once proverbial into a night hawk of the most pronounced stripe. His principal stamping ground is Whitehall street, between Beaver and South Ferry. At almost any hour after 11 o'clock at night the tall, gaunt figure of "Old Hutch" may be seen on his lonely beat. The figure is inclosed in a long, threadbare broadcloth coat and his head is covered with a broad-brimmed, soft felt hat. His eyes are always on the ground and his hands are carried behind his back. His gait is measured and slow. He seldom recognizes anyone, and never responds to the "good evening" or "good morning" of the night watchman in the lower district, who long ago realized that the old gentleman was no longer to be laughed at, but rather an object of pity. Occasionally he strays from the beaten path and shoots down a side street and quietly enters one of the many cheap saloons that are known to workers on the docks as "all-nighters." If by chance he happens to look up and see a well-dressed pedestrian he will bolt for the nearest and safest hiding place to emerge only after the coast is clear.

The face of this veteran grain gambler is haggard and drawn. The prominent nose that has been caricatured so often is more prominent than ever. His hair is thinner and grayer. Very often before sunrise "Old Hutch" turns his eyes toward Battery park. He entrers on State street and strolls quietly past old Castle Garden, where Jenny Lind sang at her best when this once great man was working at a cobbler's stool in his native Ohio village. His favorite walk is along the water. When near the barge office he usually takes a seat on a bench and sits for hours looking out over the bay. At 10 o'clock every morning he is back in the street.

No one seem sto know whether he is operating, or whether he has a dollar to his name. He never spends anything except for the red liquid he seems to like so well. Every white-aproned mixer in New, State and Whitehall streets knows him. They, like all others who come in contact with him, respect his irritability, eccentricity, or whatever it may be, and refrain from indluging in conversation with him or idle questioning.

The "Old Hutch" of to-day is a greater character than he ever was in his halcyon days in Chicago, when he held the wheat market in the palm of one hand and with the other pulled out over $2,000,000 from the "corner" he so ingeniously and successfully formed.

AMERICA'S DISCOVERY.

General Palmer Asks the Soldiers to Lend a Hand.

Albany, N. Y., May 26.—Gen. Palmer, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., is earnestly co-operating with the executive committee of the national Columbian school celebration, October 12, which aims to impress upon 13,000,000 pupils a powerful lesson in patriotism.

In the following letter Gen. Palmer, through Adjutant-General Phisterer, urges the half million veterans under his command to assist in celebrating the fourth centennial of America's discovery:

"I am directed by the commander-in-chief to inform you that it is the intention to celebrate Discovery day, October 12, in the public schools of the United States, by patriotic exercises, and the G. A. R. is asked to make common cause with the schools by acting as escort to them in parades and at the morning hour, when the scholars raise and salute the flag, that a detail of comrades be present to assist. It is deemed that the co-operation can best be secured through orders emanating from the department commanders.

"Mr. Francis Bellamy, chairman of the executive committee, will soon communicate with you upon this subject, explaining the design and conferring as to the surest manner of securing such. As this promises to be a grand lesson in patriotism, the commander-in-chief desires that each department commander will render all the assistance possible."

BIG OIL WELL.

Tiffin, May 26.—The drilling in of a 200-barrel oil well in the principal portion of the city yesterday, created intense excitement. The well was drilled for gas at Bacon's flouring mill, and when the drill entered the sand a huge volume of oil poured forth and deluged many fine residences and business houses in the vicinity. The well is on the river bank, and the stream was covered with oil.

MISSIONARY WORK.

State Convention of Workers in Session at Bellaire.

Bellaire, O., May 26.—The state convention of the Ohio Christian Missionary society, is in session in this city.

Between 350 and 400 delegates are on the ground.

By the report it appeared that five new churches were planted in Ohio the past year and nine Sunday schools. There were 1,002 members added to the churches through missionary effort. The sum of $66,000 was raised for all the societies of the church of Disciples in Ohio.

Twelve ministerial students were aided in their education. Forty-two district conventions were held and 20,000 persons appended. The missionaries and agents of the society preached 1,423 sermons and visited 229 churches. The Disciple union of Cuyahoga county raised over $12,000 for church extension in Cleveland and vicinity. Robert Moffett, secretary G. C. M. C., stated what is not generally known, that within a very few years after the first church was started in "Brush Run," the American Missionary society was organized. Its organization so early is a magnificent proof of the vision and spirit of the organizers.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 26.—Gilbert Roswell, a farmer 65 years old, who lived near Augusta, this county, quarreled with his wife yesterday. During the fight he pounded his wife's head to a jelly with a potato masher, and then committed suicide by shooting himself.

IN TRADING CIRCLES.

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 181,586 bu., and at five other western points 168,183 bu. The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were, wheat, 203,750 bu. and flour to an aggregate of 350,000 bu. Exports of corn 206,130 bu. and of oats 10,492 bu. English markets as reported herein open dull for wheat and firm for corn.

The Liverpool Letter Herein.

In answer to enquiries of Mr. Beerbohm, we print herein a letter from one of his Liverpool reporters giving explanations of the basis of future, as well as cash trading in wheat, in that city, and we offer our thanks for the same. Due credit is given to our Toledo grade of No. 2 winter wheat. It is of positive benefit to dealers to know all about the trading in grain in markets so removed from us.

Beerbohm's London Corn Trade List of May 14. England—The weather has been fine and more genial this week, but the prevailing winds have been northeasterly, and little or no rain has fallen. The wheat plant has consequently not made the progress desired, and must still be described as backward, and in several districts very irregular.

In France the prolonged drought and cold winds have caused a considerable amount of anxiety, especially in the north within the last few days, however, the weather has become milder, and the crops are making better progress, but rain is greatly desired.

The German and Dutch crop reports are satisfactory, but more favorable weather is needed.

The Weather.

It rained hard here last night, and has rained all the forenoon very freely. It has rained all over the west and northwest, according to the weather bureau. We regret it, sincerely. It is not good wheat weather after the rains in this month, and it certainly is adverse to a corn crop.

The Markets To-day.

The rainy weather to-day has been supplemented by some rumors concerning foreign stocks which no one can trace, and which are very likely to prove bogus. One report made a large decrease in French stocks which is not credited after late importations. But any how the wheat markets have been firmer, and prices a fraction higher, but prices did not stand hitched, and a half hour before the close the gory had departed, and the markets closed about where they did yesterday.

Corn has been quite steady with exception of May in Chicago, where the price has been up to 67c, but closes at 64c.

In New York May wheat closed 1-4c and July 1-8c higher. May and July corn unchanged. May oats 1-2c lower.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1-8c higher. July unchanged. May corn 3c lower. July 1-8c up. May oats 1-4c lower.

In Toledo.—In our report of the wheat market yesterday there were several inaccuracies which we regret.

To-day we have had a continuance of light trading in wheat without much variation in price, and without events to turn the markets up or down much. On the call June wheat sold at 90 3-8c; July at 86 3-4c. After the call May sold at 93 1-4c to 93c and at close 92 1-2 was bid. June sold at 90 1-2c to 90 3-4c and closed at 5-8c bid; July sold at 86 7-8c to 87 1-8c, and closed at 87c, a gain of 1-4c; August sold at 85 1-8c to 3-8c, and closed at 85 1-8c bid, a gain of 1-8c to 1-4c.

Cash wheat was dealt in by car lots to a limited extent. No. 2 soft sold at 92 1-2c, a gain of 1-4c. No. 3 soft at 88 1-2@89c.

Corn—No. 2 at 50@50 1-2c; May at 51c. July at 47 1-4@47c; No. 3 at 49@49 1-2c; No. 3 white at 52c.

Oats—No. 2, 33c bid; No. 2 white, 35c bid.

The market continued firm and further slight advances were made in the first half hour, but toward 11 o'clock pressure to sell Tennessee Coal, New England and a few others caused prices to decline rapidly. New England was especially weak, its price declining from 39 1-2 to 37 1-4. The whole list with few exceptions was 1-8 to 1 per cent. lower by mid-day. At the present writing the market is dull.

Encouraging Reports.

Kansas City, May 26.—Very dull reports to the Star from the great grain-growing area of Kansas show that the continued rains have not done great damage to the crops.

The western half of Kansas, indeed, has not received excessive rains nor has the temperature in that part of the state been as deficient as in other parts of the country. From Hutchinson westward the people are positively enthusiastic over the prospects for wheat, and from Hutchinson south there is hardly a complaint regarding the grain crop.

Generally speaking the wheat prospects have not been materially impaired in the great central region where wheat is the most important crop.

In the north and east part of the state there is some complaint of thin and sickly plants. The great majority of opinion among those most competent to judge is that there is a very good chance for Kansas to raise more than 50,000,000 bushels of wheat th's year, and no likelihood at all that the crop will fall below 40,000,000 bushels. Farmers are very busy in the fields everywhere planting corn.

WATTERSON WON HIS POINT

Kentucky's Delegation Goes Uninstructed.

The Editor and the Ex-President Have Met in the First Battle and the Former Won.

Louisville, May 26.—The idol of the national democracy was shattered against the iron will of Henry Watterson in the Bourbon state. The prestige of these two great men met in contest like living individuals in the democratic state convention. It was Grover Cleveland on the one hand and Henry Watterson on the other, and alternately the influence of both swayed the convention, but in the end the counsel of the great Kentucky editor prevailed against the admiration of all Kentucky democrats for a distinguished ex-president.

While in Kentucky the great wave of Cleveland sentiment that has swept like a resistless billow over so many states, finds its first barrier. This result must be almost entirely attributed to the influence of Henry Watterson, for even he will scarce deny that but for the great problem of expediency Grover Cleveland is the choice of three-fourths of the democratic voters of the Bourbon state.

Watterson's constant opposition to the renomination of Grover Cleveland has been on the grounds that the serious division in the democratic party in the state of New York makes the election of either Cleveland or Hill impossible, and that the democracy must seek its presidential candidate outside the Empire state if it would hope for victory.

The convention was a Watterson convention all through, and the editor scored his point by having an uninstructed delegation sent to Chicago. Henry Watterson, J. A. McKenzie and W. C. Owens are the delegates-at-large.

FIGHTING A TRUST.

Granite Cutters Call on Their Fellow-Workmen for Aid.

New York, May 26.—An appeal was issued to-day by the joint committee of granite industry to all organized workmen. After reciting the nature of the struggle briefly it concludes:

"In this hour of our great need, we call on you, brothers, for succor. Our cause is your cause, our rights yours. Therefore, will you help us to defeat and rout this tyrannical trust, as a victory for this trust means a victory for capitalistic power against all labor. We must win, and our cause depends upon help from organized labor."

Secretary Grant stated this morning that he had received word that John Snow, president of the Clark's Island Granite company, in Maine, yesterday asked his locked-out men who had made arrangements to go to work in other places, to remain a few days, as he might need them to go to work. Mr. Grant believes that this virtually means that Mr. Snow is going to withdraw from the manufacturers' association. A local street contractor is reported to have engaged a number of non-union pavers in Buffalo. The union men are going to head them off if they come to New York and prevent them from coming to work.

Annual Convention of the Makers of Beer.

Reports of Various Standing Committees.

What the Companies Will Do to Show the Magnitude of the Business to the World.

Boston, May 26.—The thirty-second annual convention of the United States Brewers' association was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning at Horticultural hall, on Tremont street, by Mr. Ellis Wainright, of St. Louis, president of the association. The attendance was large, New York and vicinity alone being represented by a delegation numbering eighty.

After some remarks by Henry H. Ructer, president of the New England Brewers' association, Mr. Wainright delivered his annual address, which was followed by the reading of the reports of the several standing committees. The report of the board of trustees was read by Mr. Richard Katzenmayer, secretary of the association.

As to the brewers' exhibit at the Columbian world's fair, the association has dropped as impracticable the project of the erection of a separate building and applied to the director general for space in any building to which under the existing system of classification such an exhibit belongs.

It is intended to illustrate by maps, charts, pamphlets and statistical fables the magnitude of the brewing trade and its industrial and agricultural connections.

It is recommended to present as graphically as possible:

First—The development of the American brewing industry, compared with the trade in other countries.

Second—The status of brewing by states together with imports and exports.

Third—The extent to which American agriculture is benefitted by brewing; giving quantities of barley, hops, oats, hay and live stock used and employed in breweries.

Fourth—The development and present status of malting.

Fifth—The industries which depend, more or less, upon brewing, such as cooperage, manufactories of wagons, refrigerators, glassware, ironware and various machines and implements used in brewing.

Sixth—The labor employed in the brewing and malting industries and in the dependent trades.

Seventh—The revenue question.

Eighth—Brewing and the beer traffic in its relation to real estate.

Ninth—The effect of the growing use of beer upon the consumption of other beverages.

Tenth—The effects of the increasing consumption of beer upon the health and morals of communities.

Eleventh—The results of laws favoring and encouraging, and of laws restricting or prohibiting the use of mild, fermented drinks.

Twelfth—The rank of brewing as a wealth-producing source generally.

It is further proposed to hold an international brewers' congress at Chicago in connection with the thirty-third annual convention, which might become the starting point of an international league of brewers. The report also treats of the effort to have duties on malt, hops, and barley reduced. The latter proposition gave rise to a sort of sectional conflict between the western and eastern growers and maltsters, the former opposing the reduction. While the admitted inability of the eastern malster to compete with his western colleague really means cheaper malt of the ordinary grades, it is a well-known fact that many eastern brewers regard Canada barley as superior to any produced here, and to them the exorbitant enhancement of the price of the Canadian product appears to be unwarranted. The assistance of the brewers throughout the country is requested in behalf of the brewers of the District of Columbia in securing for them a reasonable excise law.

The report of the publication committee was read by G. Thomann, manager of the brewers' literary bureau. It refers to a pamphlet recently published and entitled "Up to Date," which reviews the more noteworthy events of the past four years. It is composed of six chapters treating respectively:

First—Supreme court decisions.
Second—Purity of American beer.
Third—Fourth international temperance congress.
Fourth—Physiology of modern drinking.
Fifth—The status of prohibition.
Sixth—The Canteen system.

ANNA AND HER CASE.

Judge Truax Has Dismissed the Suit.

New York, May 26.—Judge Truax, of the supreme court, this morning dismissed the action of Miss Anna Dickinson against the members of the republican national committee of 1888, on the ground that the contract made for her lectures in aid of the election of Harrison was illegal.

After hearing the verdict, Miss Dickinson said: "I shall begin a new action. They cheated me out of $12,000 and my traveling expenses once before, after a long campaign in the Molly Maguire districts of Pennsylvania, where no man dared speak, but they shall not cheat me this time."

HE AWOKE SUDDENLY.

It is related o fthe late Lord Houghton, the poet, that he was present at Lady Kn[illegible]'s one afternoon when Clifford Harrison was rec[illegible]. During the entertainment the noble verse writer fell asleep. One of his own pieces happened to be on the program, and Mr. Harrison determined that it should be the next. When he had recited it, and while the audience were applauding, Lord Houghton awoke, and rising from his chair exclaimed: "One of the best things I have ever heard. Who wrote it? Is it published?"

SICKNESS AMONG CHILDREN, Especially infants, is prevalent more or less at all times, but is largely avoided by giving proper nourishment and wholesome food. The most successful and reliable of all is the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk. Your grocer and druggist keep it.

BUSINESS BLUNDERS.

A Portland gentleman tells the Express of some of the curious mistakes which occur constantly in banking circles. "I know one instance," he says, "where a note went to protest. The maker insisted that he had sent a check for it by mail. After some days the check was found in a waste basket with a lot of empty envelopes. A man once called into our bank to insist that a deposit of nearly $500 which he had made did not appear anywhere on his book. The transaction occurred some months before. Upon looking it up a deposit ticket in his own handwriting was discovered depositing the missing amount to the credit of another man. When he made the deposit he did not have his book with him, but he made out his deposit ticket and in a moment of abstraction wrote the other instead of his own name. It was several months before he missed the money, and the money, and the man to whose credit he had deposited it had known nothing about it and gave a check for the amount to correct the error."

The governess employed in an English family writes to a London paper complaining, and not without cause, of the scant wages paid for private instruction. She says that she is required to teach Latin and music in addition to the regular studies, to accompany her pupils on their daily walks, and to be constantly in their company from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., for which she receives the magnificent sum of $75 per year. This is about half of what a second-rate house servant is paid. The governess of the novelist and the governess of real life are evidently two separate and distinct characters, if this particular governess is a sample of the class.

EARTHQUAKE EFFECTS.

Story of the Recent Tremor Which Frightened People in California.

An old sheep herder who dwells in a secluded spot in the Sutter county buttes made his annual visit to this city recently, says the Marysville Democrat, and from him we learn some phenomenal and interesting circumstances as a result of the recent earthquake.

The lonely camp of the old shepherd is far up in the buttes, and is surrounded with cliffs densely covered with massive rocks and bowlders, which have withstood the storms of ages and furnished mills for the aborigines to grind their acorns and manzanita berries into flour, from the remotest antiquity.

The old herder had just emerged from his cabin on this memorable morn, and was gathering kindling with which to prepare his morning meal before turning his flock on to the range for their day's forage, and the wonderful sight he witnessed will never be forgotten. When the trembling began numerous sparks of a bright blue color began issuing from the rocks, caused by the friction as they were tossed to and fro by the surging earth. As the tremors increased the number of sparks did likewise, until at one time the hillsides appeared as one sheet of fire, with millions of sparks darting here and there, as if dancing for joy. As the trembling subsided the sparks gradually disappeared, and in a moment all was total darkness.

Shortly after the sun had started on its journey in the eastern horizon, the attention of the old shepherd was attracted by the great branches of trees which had fallen to the ground, and those which remained intact seemed to horrify the wild birds, as they would attempt to alight, and then, with a frightened scream, would pass rapidly on, only to repeat the caper at the next tree. An investigation proved that millions of lizards and snakes had taken refuge in the trees during their fright, and had become so numerous on the projecting branches that were forced to succumb to the immense weight, and fell to the ground. This is the only instance of damage in Yuba or Sutter county.

THE INNOCENT.

She stood looking up at him so innocently from under that spring of mistletoe that still hung in the parlor as a reminder of the Christmas season; she was so pretty, and she was under the mistletoe, and he couldn't help it—he had kissed her.

It was an ungentlemanly and unmanly thing to do. He knew that now, as remembered her frightened, startled look, and the miserable excuses he had tried to stammer out; yes, and the tears in her eyes, and the little choking sob with which she had received his stumbling apology.

"Who could think she would feel like that about?" he thought; "dear little innocent!"

And she—after he was gone, she lay down on the sofa and cried. "I like him—so much, and now—to think he should kiss me at last—and then say he didn't mean anything by it. What does he think I stood there for?—the little idiot!"—Life.

A MATTER OF ECONOMY.

Reporter (in a boat)—"How many times have you been overflowed here and lost all your fences and crops and live stock?"

Mississippi Flood Sufferer (on the roof)—"I think this is erbout the 'leventh time."

"Then why don't you move back to the hills?"

"Move? Thunder'n lightnin'! That'd cost me mighty nigh $6. Got any tobacker?"—Chicago Tribune.
